DA NEWC OBSERVES

An amphibious duck making its way up Neshannock creek in the vicinity of the East Washington street bridge, drew a sizeable crowd last evening on the bridge as spectators watched the antics of the "duck" and its crew. The large vehicle was driven up on the little island at the south side of the bridge pier where it remained for some time. Evidently the appearance of the boat is in connection with Armed Forces Week.

Union high school students enjoyed themselves Wednesday as they marked "kids day." Many of the seniors of the school donned children's clothing and were observed in the downtown section carrying dolls and other child toys much to the amusement of downtowners.

Commencement season will officially begin for at least four high schools in the county over the current weekend. Four county schools will have baccalaureate programs as the first important program in their graduation plans. Schools having baccalaureats this coming Sunday include Harlansburg, Mt. Jackson Princeton and Union high schools.

Work of demolishing the two small buildings at the site of the old Clendenin block, North Mercer street, has been completed by workmen. The debris was being moved today which will complete the clearing of the block from Washington street to Sycamore alley.

Residents, motorists and pedestrians who were in the vicinity of the railroad crossing on East Washington street east of Croton avenue, were surprised Wednesday evening to see an exceptionally long freight train cross at the intersection. Generally, very few trains use the crossing. Cessation of the railroad strike probably accounted for the extra length of the freight train.

Gen. MacArthur's Aides Are Perplexed On Base Plans

By JOHN RICH
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

TOKYO, May 18.—Gen. Douglas MacArthur's top aides evinced surprise and perplexity today over the Defense department's announced plans for leasing a permanent naval base in Japan, apparently without any nearby air suport.

Generals and admirals at MacArthur's Tokyo headquarters pointed out that the news from Washington indicates the Defense department envisages the leasing of the Yokosuka naval port and the removal of all American airfields in Japan to Okinawa Island.

What Air Cover?

Even officers not connected with the air force wondered aloud what kind of air cover would be available for American naval vessels and installations at Yokosuka which is a thousand miles northeast of Okinawa airstrips in Japan —particularly those capable of accomodating jet fighters—are con-

U.N. Secretary Plans To Confer With Truman

Will Discuss Stalin Conference Result With U.S. President

By PIERRE J. HUSS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., May 18.—Secretary General Trygve Lie instructed his United Nations Headquarters aides today to arrange a meeting for him during the first week of June with President Truman and Dean Acheson for discussion of the cold war and Premier Stalin's views on the east-west dispute.

The U. N. chief said he plans to leave Moscow for Paris by plane early tomorrow (Thursday evening American time) and busy himself over the week-end conferring with French Premier Bidault and Foreign Minister Schuman on the outcome of his Kremlin talks.

Lie will proceed to London from Paris for similar conferences with Prime Minister Attlee and Foreign Secretary Bevin. He has charged original plans of his peace mission and will not hurry to confront the western big three foreign ministers and eight other Atlantic Pact diplomats before they leave the British capital.

Bus Drivers In Pittsburgh Out On Strike

PITTSBURGH, May 18.—(INS)—Some 450,000 Pittsburgh district residents were left stranded by a walkout of 750 bus drivers early today.

The strike came after efforts to mediate the wage dispute between the AFL Amalgamated Street Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes and five bus companies failed.

The struck lines are:

Brentwood Motor Coach Co., Oriole Bus Co., DeBold Bus Co., West Side Bus Co. and the Penn Transit Co.

A last minute agreement with a sixth firm, Bamford Brothers Bus Lines, postponed the strike at the company and continued negotiations for at least another day.

Federal Conciliator Charles R. Ward said that neither management nor the union would budge on the wage issue. The union said the lowest increase it would consider is 10 cents an hour. But management refused adamantly to consider any wage boost.

Another bus line, the Harmony Bus Co., which serves 150,000 commuters in the Allegheny valley area, has been strikebound since May 2. The Harmony wage dispute also involves wage demands.

The strike today will virtually paralyze motor transportation in the Pittsburgh area. The union contracts expired May 1.

The plane developed engine trouble on a flight from Bermuda to England.

SHREVEPORT, La., May 18.—(INS)—Barksdale airforce base at Shreveport today announced that an airforce B-29 was reported to have crashed in the Azores, killing 11 crewmen and five military passengers.

Public Information Officer Salvadore Pelle said a report from Lagens air force base in the Azores indicated that the plane developed engine trouble on a Bermuda-to-England flight and was attempting an emergency landing in the Azores when it crashed.

Pelle said the crash occurred at 7:59 p. m. (CST) last night.

Crashed Into Cemetery

(The craft turned over on its nose and caught fire. Bodies of the dead were strewn over the field).

The plane was one of the 301st Bomb Wing, which is being moved from Barksdale to England for routine training service.

ARMY 'DUCK' IN NESHANNOCK CREEK

War surplus Army Duck recently purchased by Keller Cochran of Wilmington road, is shown as it became stuck on piling under the East Washington street bridge late Wednesday night, while on a trial run. The group was testing the "duck" at The Harbor and entered the Shenango river at that point. After moving down stream for some distance, the group couldn't find a low spot on the banks to land. At the junction of the Neshannock and Shenango, the "duck" was brought up the Neshannock creek where it became fast on the piling. By using the wench on the rear of the "duck", it was finally moved at 3 a. m., after being stuck for five hours. It attracted considerable attention and crowds lined the bridge rail to watch the maneuvering. Mr. Cochran anticipates using the vehicle in the Armed Forces Day parade on Friday evening.

Gov. Duff Embarks Upon Plan To Revitalize Party

By JOHN PAGET
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

PHILADELPHIA, May 18—Gov. James H. Duff embarked today on a two-fold program to revitalize Pennsylvania's Republican organization along the lines laid down in his successful bid for the U. S. senatorial nomination.

Looking ahead to 1952 presidential balloting as well as the general election November 7, when his slate will face a militant Democratic ticket, the governor has charted a course which he is confident will assure victory in both instances.

Wins Mandate

The governor won a mandate from Republican voters by defeating six-term Cong. John C. Kunkel of Harrisburg for the senatorial nomination, and carrying his full statewide slate to victory.

With but a scant dozen of the 8347 precincts in the state missing, Duff polled 951,401 votes to 429,324 for Kunkel. In gubernatorial balloting Duff's hand-picked running mate, former Superior Court Judge John S. Fine, won 778,599

Argentina To Get Big Loan

By JOHN REICHMANN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, May 18.—A United States credit of 125 million dollars to Argentina is expected to be followed by a new treaty of friendship, commerce and navigation between the two nations.

The loan, long anticipated, was announced by the export-import bank. It was not made directly to the government.

Instead the bulk of the credit was made to Argentine banks which will repay defaulted dollar loans from U. S. financial institutions. These loans total 105 millions.

The remainder will be used partly to finance the purchase of farm machinery to improve the natino's agricultural program.

Thus far there has been no immediate indication of what the U. S. might gain by the new transaction, but it was understood that the new treaty will soon be signed.

This treaty, modernizing international relations, will follow the lines of those signed with Italy and Uruguay.

Great Progress In Western Pacific Defense Program

TOKYO, May 18.—(INS)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur declared today in an Armed Forces Day message that "great progress" has been achieved in development of America's "western Pacific defense team." The allied supreme commander stated:

"Our first Armed Forces Day, symbolizing unity among the services, is being observed by Americans of the Far East Command with the realization that through their efforts great progress has been made in developing and maintaining our Western Pacific defense team.

"We face our individual and collective tasks of the future with unshakable firmness in the belief that with God's help we shall attain the goal of lasting peace."

Demand U.S. Staff Be Cut In Romania

BUCHARIST, May 18.—(INS)—Romania demanded that the United States reduce the staff of the U. S. legation in Bucharest because of "espionage" activity.

The action was a duplicate of another Communist-dominated country, Czechoslovakia, which recently forced an estimated two-thirds of the U. S. diplomatic and Consular staff to leave because of similar "spying".

The United States retaliated by forcing a similar reduction in Czechoslovakia personnel in the Washington legation and closing the country's Consulates in Cleveland and Pittsburgh.

The Romanian official news agency said that the government was requesting the cut because the U. S. ignored its repeated protests "that espionage was conducted by certain members of the legation."

The Romanian action seems to be part of a Communist pattern aimed at freezing out western influence in eastern Europe.

N.L.R.B. Files Complaint In Case Of Miner

BULLETIN

CHICAGO, May 18—(INS)—The National Labor Relations Board filed a complaint in Chicago today charging John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers Union and a coal company with unfair labor practices for firing a miner who attempted to lead a "back to work" movement during the recent strike.

The complaint was issued by Ross M. Madden, regional director of the NLRB in behalf of Robert N. Denham, NLRB general counsel.

At issue is the case of Lloyd M. Sidener, 45, of Canton, Ill., a shovel engineer at the Buckheart mine of the United Electric Coal company.

Allegations Made

Madden's complaint alleged that the Canton local of the UMW, of which Sidener had been president removed him from office and fined him $50,000 for attempting to return to the pits after a federal court injunction ordering the strike ended was issued in February.

The complaint added that the union then forced the coal company to fire Sidener last March

(Picture on Page 27)

Edison Coryea, Jr., aged 25 years, of R. D. 1, New Wilmington, was killed when a light pickup truck he wsa driving was struck by a tractor-trailer, hauling steel, driven by Gerald F. Holman, aged 37 years, of 191 Spring street, Masury, O., at 7:45 a. m. today on Route 18 (Wilmington road) four miles north of the city.

Coryea, who was employed by his brother-in-law, Chester Thompson of Beechwood road, New Wilmington, was enroute to New Castle to work on a home on Worthington avenue, when the collision occurred.

Police Hold Driver

State police are holding Holman, driver of the truck, pending a more complete investigation into the circumstances. They arrested Holman in a roadside restaurant just beyond the intersection of Routes 18 and 158, three miles north of the scene, where he had been driven by a motorist, who called state police. He told the state police that he was confused following the crash, and that no one would help him at the scene, so he was trying to get to his home in Masury.

According to his story, he was traveling north, enroute from Aliquippa to the Wheatland Tube Co. It was very foggy. He stated that he did not notice the truck driven by Coryea until he was almost upon it, and that it was bearing towards his side of the road. He stated that he swung to the left, and then swung back to the right, and was headed toward the right side of the road at a sharp angle, when he struck the light vehicle driven by Coryea. The smaller truck was driven ahead of the big

Chinese Troops Reach Formosa

Troops Withdrawn From Chusan Islands

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
Far Eastern Director, International News Service

KEELUNG, Formosa, May 18.—(INS)—Seven thousand singing, cheering Chinese troops, withdrawn from the Chusan Islands, were welcomed as heroes today when they arrived on Formosa Island to help defend the last piece of territory left to the Nationalists.

Madame Chiang Kai-Shek, wife of the Generalissimo, led a large crowd that greeted the soldiers at Formosa's Keelung Harbor. She called on them to join courageously in the expected battle to hold what she termed China's "last bastion against Communism".

The Generalissimo's son, Maj. Gen. Chiang Ching-Kuo, also was present on the muddy wharf to welcome the vanguard of an estimated 150,000 Nationalist troops evacuated from the Chusan Islands off China's East coast.

"You're right" said my friend the farmer, "we work rather hard in the spring" and the summer and fall are busy times too, with reaping and everything. But we do get some relaxation, there's one time a week in sight, and all of us plan for a spot of some fun, and that comes on Saturday night. There's movies in town and the ball games, there's parties and radio, and square dances down in some neighbor's barn and all of us like to go. Of course we work hard and we like it, but now and then get in some play, for a farmer's work is important work, and it's 78 today.

General Assembly Of Presbyterian Church Assembles

CINCINNATI, O., May 18—(INS)—The 162nd General Assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States opened today in Cincinnati.

The national confab was preceded with a conference yesterday at which the Rev. George M. Docherty, pastor of New York avenue church in Washington D. C., outlined the problems of the church.

He said evangelists are preaching "such a secular world that regards religion as an old-fashioned an outmoded way of interpreting life."

The Rev. Docherty said this was unique because in the past it has always been a question of susbstituting "a living Christ for pagan and false but, nonetheless, valid Gods."

ATLANTIC PACT CONFERENCE IS NEARING END

fort on the part of the "Atlantic community of nations" to strengthen common defenses.

It is understood the security system envisions the establishment of 36 divisions in Western Europe by the end of 1954. Such a force is considered by western defense chiefs the minimum required to hold a Russian attack in check long enough to bring effective reinforcements into action.

May Be 50 Divisions

However, some Atlantic alliance military strategists—especially the French—believe that 36 divisions eventually should be expanded to 50 to provide a safer barrier against possible aggression.

France is expected to provide 24 of the 36 divisions under the plan set up at The Hague during the recent meeting of the defense chiefs.

A strong force of fighters and medium bombers based on continental air fields to back up the land troops also is included in The Hague plan.

The official communique will be released during a public session of the council at Lancaster House. Secretary of State Acheson and other foreign ministers are scheduled to speak at the session.

Consider Austrian Treaty

Another important development expected during the day is a special meeting of the U. S., British and foreign ministers to consider the deadlock with Russia over the Austrian treaty.

Reports current in diplomatic circles said the big three ministers plan to announce their intention to transfer western occupational control of Austria from military authority to civilian control effective in June.

At the same time the big three plan to reduce the amount of American, British and French troops in the country.

It is reported that the ministers may call Russia's bluff on whether she really wishes to conclude an Austrian peace treaty by announcing their willingness to meet Soviet claims on Austria totalling $200,000,000.

Other Problems

There are other problems over which the Atlantic Pact ministers are not in agreement. These are:

1. The extent of financial sacrifices each nation must make in a common effort to develop a strong western defense system quickly.

2. The extent to whom each nation will concentrate on the development of specialized branches of the armed services.

3. The extent to which each nation will reduce other elements of its armed forces.

4. The allocation of common defense forces and the areas to be defended under the new strategic concept.

sidered by MacArthur's staff to be most essential to the defense of the Japanese home islands. Yet the Defense department appears to contemplate the leasing of no permanent air bases in Japan.

One official at MacArthur's headquarters said any plans to leave a major naval base such as Yokosuka so distant from other U. S. installations "just isn't sound strategy."

It is known that the recommendations for bases in Japan which Gen. MacArthur handed the U. S. joint chiefs of staff during their January visit to Tokyo included much in addition to Yokosuka, although the naval base was perhaps the largest single unit mentioned in the proposals.

tractor-trailer, and was was virtually demolished, being partly buried in the earth in a field at the side of the road, with the driver, Coryea, underneath. The tractor came to rest in a ditch about three feet deep.

Examination by Coroner Charles E. Allen revealed that Coryea had suffered a broken neck, fractures of the lower jaw, compound fracture of the right arm above the elbow, and compound fracture of both legs above the knee. His face was buried in the earth beneath the wreckage, death having been virtually instantaneous.

The truck Holman was driving was owned by Ed Chadderton, Sharon hauling contractor.

Coryea, who was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edison Coryea of R. D. 5, is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ethel Thompson Coryea, and three brothers and a sister, Joseph, James and Hugh of R. D. 5 and Mrs. Jean Stiefel of Gardner.

votes to 584,333 for Philadelphia businessman Jay Cooke.

Kunkel and Cooke ran with the personal endorsement of former U. S. Sen. Joseph R. Grundy of Bristol, a leader who believes the Democrats will "eat Duff alive" in the general election.

To Oppose Myers

In the fall Duff will oppose U. S. Sen. Francis J. Myers of Philadelphia, seeking his second term with the endorsement of President Truman, while Fine will battle Philadelphia city treasurer Richardson Dilworth, the 1950 golden boy of Democratic circles.

The governor's determination to charge GOP batteries stems from his conviction that only new leaders can maneuver the tricky currents of 20th century politics.

His plan calls for (1) party unity and a new slate of top GOP strategists and (2) determination to build what he calls "Pennsylvania's own brand of progressive Republicanism" into a potent voting force.

Political events this year as well as in the near-disastrous GOP defeat in presidential balloting two years ago have shown that Duff is no crystal ball gazer but rather is keenly alert to a restless need among Republicans for a return to the place in the political sun.

A GENERAL SPEAKS

Almost at the moment President Truman was releasing his most recent statement to the effect that the international situation looks much brighter, Gen. George C. Kenney, commanding general of the Air University, Maxwell Field, Ala., made a speech in which he said Russia's saber rattling means business.

Many public figures—including President Truman and Henry Wallace—commenting on the tense international situation, continue to interpret the communist provocation of the cold war in less conclusive and more hopeful terms.

But General Kenney is more disposed to the theory that where there's smoke there's fire: a nation riding a wave of territorial expansion is automatically committed to going to war.

Here is a military man looking the facts as he sees them unflinchingly in the face. The way to thwart Russia's timetable, in General Kenney's opinion, is to develop a military machine, actual and potential, that will dissuade the Kremlin from its warlike course.

This coldly logical train of thought does not preclude continuing diplomatic efforts to solve the international problem short of atom bombings.

ATOMIC ALLIES

Whether the United States, Great Britain and Canada finally decide on the free interchange of vital atomic secrets will depend largely on the outcome of two errands of diplomacy this month:

These are the trip by United Nations Secretary General Trygve Lie to the Kremlin in the interests of a new East-West understanding, and the Big Three foreign ministers' meeting in London.

If either of the two meetings wind up with any success toward a settlement of the cold war issues, there will be little chance that the United States will want to relax its rigid Atomic Energy Law so it can pass around its fission secrets.

On the other hand, the hotter the cold war gets, the better are the chances that the United States, Britain and Canada may decide an information pool is utterly necessary to their common defense.

Should the secrets trade hands, the United States would get from Britain knowledge on new processes which simplify the tricky detonation of the A-bombs. From Canada it would get priceless fruits of research on development of atomic energy through the "heavy water" process.

This country, in turn, would give its partners equally valuable data on peacetime uses of fission-energy.

ANOTHER COMPLAINT

We have noted in recent weeks how the oil and coal industries, the pottery, the watch, jewelry, men's hats and other interests including the canned fisheries, have started complaining about unfair competition from abroad, much of it being the product of slave labor, even more devastating that the peon and peasant labor of the days before the war. Labor leaders have joined with producers in these protests. Now we hear a complaint from the farming interests. It was registered by Chauncey B. Watson, president of the Corn Belt Feeders association in an address at the Sherman Hotel in Chicago. In part he said:

"It is ridiculous to pay farmers thru the loan and support programs to produce grain and other agricultural products and then to import foreign goods produced by slave or peasant labor to use in this country while our own grain sits in the steel tanks to rot.

"Each billion pounds of fats and oil imported takes out of production 5 million acres of domestic crop land. And removal of that land from cultivation means elimination of labor to manufacture the machines to till the soil, the labor to transport the products from that soil, and the labor to process that production into table food.

"Europe is long on manufactures, short on raw products. The Far East and South America are long on raw products, short on manufactured goods. It would seem far more sensible to make possible the exchange of the goods manufactured by a bankrupt Europe for the goods of the peasant labor of other countries than to bring those foreign goods, both raw products and manufactured products, into this country to smash down our economy also."

Of course, Mr. Watson may think it ridiculous to support farm prices on American products and then encourage cheap agricultural imports from abroad but our administration at Washington, especially the State Department, does not think this ridiculous and is calling for more sweeping tariff reductions.

Many a man has toyed with the thought that he would like to do just nothing. Trouble with that is that it would be impossible to quit and rest.

Whiskers, Viennese male hair stylists have decreed, are on their way back into style. However, advises the office investment expert, it's a bit prmature to rush out and buy mustache cup stock.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

Civilian May Direct Defenses

A possibility arose today that administrators of North Atlantic treaty defenses—the most ambitious preparedness scheme in the history of the world—may be entrusted to the hands of a civilian instead of a military man.

Foreign ministers of the Atlantic powers meeting in London are considering the idea of some such "supreme co-ordinator" and canvassing the field of likely leaders.

Still Magic Name

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower still is a magic name among the ministers. And those who want him—if he would accept such a post—can argue that he is a civilian as well as a military man since he now is president of Columbia university.

Another man, a straight civilian, whose name has arisen is Marshall Plan Ambassador W. Averell Harriman. He has wide executive experience, personality and has held many government posts, among them the ambassadorship to Moscow.

He has a deep knowledge of Soviet strategy and tactics and probably knows everything it is possible to know about Russian plans and ultimate intention.

The apointment of a civilian to such an all-important military post is not so surprising as it appears on its face.

It has been made obvious that the re-armament of western Europe and the creation of a vast force competent to hold off any aggression will have to be an economy-minded affair.

Only Limited Resources

The countries of Europe have only limited financial resources. They are not anxious to expend these despite firm warning from the United States that each participating power must contribute to the best of its ability.

It is logical therefore to choose a man accustomed to handling large sums of money and earmarking them where they will do the most good.

The second world war proved that pure and simple military administration is not always the best thing.

Winston Churchill sensed this and made himself defense minister as soon as he had been given the premiership. In this post he was at the very center of Britain's war potential.

He was not blinded by needs and requirements of any single service arm. He could take a broad and detached view and the military, air and naval men soon learned that his recommendations slashed away at tedious red tape and in time gave Britian an over-all improvement that meant victory.

Things Bungled

Churchill doubtless had in mind from the beginning the way France's general staff had bungled things.

First there was the Maginot line complex. The fortifications, although not complete, were masterpieces so far as modern equipment was concerned. But obviously they left much to be desired. If a French executive skilled in engineering construction and acquainted in a broad way with military logistics had supervised France's defenses, the story might have been different.

Even Adolf Hitler, for all his worship of uniforms and claims of military "intuition" had the good sense to leave much to civilians.

He had little use for the old line generals, whom he distrusted with good cause. But he had tremendous respect for mechanical genius and businesslike administration.

This was why he entrusted the coldly scientific, unemotional Albert Speer with the task of building his war machine.

Speer is an engineer with a capacity for getting things done. There was something paradoxial in the fact that while Speer built the war machine, he actually was not a warlike man.

During his trial at Nuernberg, where the international military tribunal sentenced him to 20 years in jail, observers were struck by the apparent fact that Speer almost walked blindly into his task of creating a monster.

His statements showed how he realized at last and far too late that he had built for Hitler a machine that could not do otherwise than inevitably encompass Germany's destruction.

Time and again he wrestled with his conscience and thought of warning Hitler. But his building went on and on until finally the whole human and material resources of the nation were harnessed and by then the time had passed for salvation.

Harriman's selection by the defense ministers probably would be welcomed by military men as well as the general publics involved. His name is closely tied in with the factors that have enabled western Europe to rebuild and fend off communism. And the respect that is felt for his business and executive abilities is profound and universal.

Folks Of Fame

Gilbert Stuart was an early American artist, born in North Kingstown, R. I., Dec. 3, 1755. After study in America, Scotland and England, he set up his stulio in London. He painted a portrait of George IV, and later, in Paris, Louis XVI. He was also successful in Ireland. He came back to America in order to paint George Washington's portrait, but feeling that his first portrait was a failure he made another—accepted as real likeness of Washington. He also painted Lord Henry Lansdowne, and Presidents John Adams Thomas Jefferson, James Madison, James Monroe and John Quincy Adams and many other noted people of his day. He is considered one of the few really great American painters. He settled in Boston in 1805, and died there July 9, 1828.

Gilbert Miller noted theater manager and producer was born in New York City July 3, 1884. He was formerly an actor, and in that capacity appeared in "Julie Bon-Bon." His first managerial venture in London was "Daddy Long-Legs," in 1916, and his subsequent productions both in London and America, are too many to mention here. A few of the best known are "Monsieur Beaucaire," "Julius Caesar," "Peter Pan," "The Bat" "The Green Goddess," "The Last of Mrs. Cheyney," "The Vinegar Tree," "The Late Christopher Bean," "Berkeley Square," "Let Us Be Gay," "Reunion in Vienna," "Journey's End," "The Animal Kingdom," "Firebird," "The Petrified Forest," "Tovarich," "Harriet" and "Dear Ruth." He maintains offices in London and New York.

The Parent Problem

COURSES FOR FUTURE MOTHERS

There was a big crop of babies in 1949, a million more than in 1940. The total registered births last year was 3,581,000, compared with 2,360,300 in 1940.

Infant mortality in the United States dropped to an all-time low in 1948, when only 32 out of 1,000 babies died during the first year. Incomplete figures for 1949 indicate a further drop to 31 per 1,000.

See the progress that has been made. In 1940 the rate was 47 per 1,000; in 1930 it was 64.6. Presumably, there's a corresponding drop in death of mothers in connection with childbirth.

Care of Mothers

The biggest single factor in the lowering of infant and mother mortality has been through improved medical care of expectant mothers and increasing readiness of expectant mothers to seek this medical care. Widening the availability of adequate medical care to all expectant mothers, and their growing eagerness to seek such services have been furthered thru popular literature and the efforts of the PTA and other community-minded organizations. There is also an increase in courses for future mothers and fathers on child care and development in our junior and senior high schools.

To young expectant fathers: As soon as you know or suspect your wife is pregnant seek medical care for her at once. If you just can't find enough money for this service, inquire of your pastor, priest or rabbi or of some other responsible person where you can obtain proper medical care at little or no cost. Most of you can find the money if you deny yourselves less important things. Sometimes the parents of the wife or husband can afford to help and are glad to do so, if they fully sense the importance of adequate medical care of the expectant mother.

Expectant Father

Often the expectant father does not as fully sense the need of early and continual medical care of the expectant mother as she does. Sometimes she hesitates to press the matter. He really should take the initiative. See what it would mean to his wife's morale and to their mutual happiness. Many a young expectant father who seems indifferent or neglectful merely has lacked sufficient education. He hasn't read column, articles or books or attended parent meetings so often as his wife has. And he may have had nothing on the subject at school. Speed the day when he will. In the meanwhile mens' service clubs could do much to spread enlightenment among young men.

HAIR? WHERE?

Hair is a wonderful adornment. It must be in the right places though.

Young folks usually take their hair for granted. When it begins to get a little thin in some places, Dad begins to worry. He gets hair oil and scalp treatments and violent rays and shaves the spots even.

Probably Cain had all those troubles too. Nothing helped him very much and it has been the same way ever since.

If all of these hair growers were dumped into the ocean, the whales would not say one word.

Give Up Golf? Never!

(By HENRY McLEMORE)

In the winter of 1932, standing on the first tee of the Miami Biltmore course, Gene Sarazen gave a hitch to his knickers and me a piece of advice which I would have been wise to heed.

"Give up golf," Gene said. "Give it up right away. Right this minute."

"Why?" I asked. "Anyway I couldn't quit at this time. I have just bought a new ball."

"Well," Sarazen said, "I'm telling you that you'll never be able to play the game. Try something else. Water polo, automobile racing, aquaplaning, archery, anything. But not golf."

Many Others Tell Me Same

Since the day Sarazan so brilliantly analyzed my game half a hundred other noted professionals have told me substantially the same thing. Byron Nelson, Lawson Little, Tony Penna, Craig Wood, Ben Hogan.

It was at Phoenix, where I was his pro-amateur partner, that Jimmy Demaret asked me if my wife had ever seen me play golf.

"A hundred times," I told him.

"Love, ain't it wonderful," Demaret sighed, before going off to post our 18-hole total of 102.

But I have yet to quit golf.

Why?

For the same reason that thousands and thousands of otherwise sane Americans have refused to abandon the sport, although they know in their hearts that they will remain colossal duffers until they reach the Heavenly Links, which has no traps, close lies, or rough—and no score cards or pencils.

The reason for this stubbornness is, I believe, due to the fact that the duffer finally comes to realize that there is more fun in playing golf badly than there is in playing it well.

The majority of good golfers suffer from ulcers or have a twitch around their eyes and mouth, or are given to shakes and tremors. They also have questionable tempers and are given to flogging their wives and kicking animals.

This is all due, I am convinced, to the shock their nervous systems undergo each time a missed putt, a hooked drive, or a topped brassie causes them to have a bad round.

Naturally, the congenital duffer suffers no such tortures. Indeed, a well-hit shot is much more likely to upset him than a score of bad shots.

Great Mental Strain

The good, or par and better, golfer suffers a great mental strain. Think of all the things he has to remember. To keep his head down. To keep his left elbow anchored to his right ear (or something like that). To pronate his wrists, bend his ankles at the moment of impact, keep his weight here, there and everywhere, and be certain that his face is set along grim lines at all times.

Also, good golfers never really get to enjoy the beauties of nature that most courses afford. They are always down the middle of the fairway, forced to trudge along where the sun is hottest and very few flowers grow. The loveliest part of a golf course is the rough, and it is in the rough where the duffer is privileged to wander most of his time, enjoying the cool shade and learning of the birds and bees and flowers.

Another thing. Good golfers get very little exercise. An hour or two in a rocking chair is equally as beneficial as shooting a 69 or 71. But when the duffer trudges up to the 18th with a 100-plus score, he has walked many, many miles, and used every muscle in the book.

One Man's Opinion

By Walter Kiernan
(By International News Service).

For those who haven't figured out their summer vacation yet . . . that trip of Harry's was one of the finest of the all-expense tours and he was gone less than two weeks.

He met lots of new friends, visited many places of interest and slept under two budgets every night.

Vic Johnston covered the same route for the Republicans . . . his was a kind of a student tour and he came back qualified as an observer of the charm school methods.

Johnstone learned many things on the trip to report to Republican leaders . . . his first report reads "Look out!"

His second report now in preparation will say "This boy has got nothing for us to be afraid of except voters."

It will take a little time to analyze fully the results of the president's trip but even before he started back from Grand Coulee Dam the Turkish Democrats whipped the Turkish Republicans for the first time since 1923.

From Me To You

By MESEEALL

Time is slipping by quickly . . . doesn't seem but a short time back that time at this time of year seemed to move so very slow . . . Waiting for school to be out . . . as we all grow older time seems to move at a much quicker tempo. Too many things to do . . . in such a little time to do it all in . . . Look how many times we have used the time in this paragraph . . . Someone must be conscious by this time of the word time . . . or time as a factor.

* * *

Soon it will be Memorial Day . . . but before we arrive at that day, which is not only the day for us all to remember our friends who paid the supreme sacrifice . . . and should be the main topic of our thoughts . . . modern custom has lead us also to think of Memorial Day as the beginning of the summer season . . . Vacations really start in earnest on and after the 30th of May . . . ending on Labor Day.

From now until the end of May . . . is a good time for organizations to have festivals . . . carnivals . . . and that is exactly what the Highland Avenue PTA group has planned for this week-end . . . A carnival . . . with all the trimmings. The surprising thing about the Highland PTA Carnival is that all of the side shows, concessions, entertainment and "set-up" will be accomplished by members of the PTA . . . This Saturday show will not be one that comes from the open road . . . But from the living room and kitchens of the parents of children now attending the Highland School.

* * *

All day Saturday . . . that's from noon until late at night . . . people from all over town are invited to attend and have fun . . . If nothing else is accomplished . . . having fun is all important. Entertainment for the children . . . sure, and live ponies too. Sliding boards and all sorts of things that the real small fry enjoy . . . older ones too will be entertained by games . . . and for the parents of all children . . . and those who haven't children of school age there will be things to do that will prove entertaining . . . Yes, it's the time of the year to laugh and meet your fellow townsman . . . Saturday evening as a special feature . . . new fire fighting equipment will be shown . . . There is another new fire truck in town . . . So remember . . . Highland Avenue Field . . . across from the school on Saturday . . . and Saturday evening.

AGING GOLFER

The course grows longer every year.
The greens are not as true.
The traps more troublesome appear.
My drives are shorter, too.

They've let the rough more tangled grow,
And cut it down they should.
For iron shots not long ago
I'm told to take the wood.

I'm sure the lies are worse today
Than what they used to be—
The eighty-five I once could play
Is now a ninety-three.

I give the course the blame for it,
As all the gray heads do.
Yes, I am fatter—just a bit—
And somewhat older, too.

Washington Calling

(By Marquis Childs)

Aftermath Of Chicago Show

CHICAGO, May 17—You gather from a certain amount of activity that has just gone on here that an election is coming up fairly soon. But whether the big show was primarily concerned with a Congressional contest in the fall or a third term for President Truman in '52 is a question, now that the souvenir vendors have packed up their wares and the crowd has melted away.

There is at least one individual who is vitally interested. Senator Scott Lucas of this state is faced with a tough fight to retain his seat and his place as Majority Leader in the Senate.

The Republican challenger is Everett Dirksen, a former Congressman with a warm, likeable personality and a friendly touch with crowds, not unlike that of Truman himself. For many months Dirksen has been going up and down the length and breadth of Illinois talking to big crowds and little crowds on every possible occasion.

Lucas Reported In Trouble

Word was sent back to Lucas that he was in trouble, which may be one reason for the timing of the spectacle here. Lucas' position is believed to be stronger today than it was a month ago. And he is feeling more cheerful as a result of the promises and the praise, including Truman's blessing in his windup speech for the "excellent manner" in which Lucas has measured up to the "difficult task" of Majority Leader.

There are Fair Dealers in the Senate who would not agree with that praise. They have often in recent weeks grumbled at what they insist is Lucas' failure to go on the offensive and hit back at Republican attackers. They complain that they are held back and discouraged when they want to carry the fight to the enemy.

Lucas is not the crusading type. He inclines in general to the conservative point of view. And this is HIS election year. As he told a session of national committeemen and democratic officials:

Going To Set The Issues

"The national committee is not going to tell me what the issues are in this state. I'm going to set the issues myself."

He went on to make clear that one issue he would shun with determination and persistence was the Brannan farm plan. The Farm Bureau Federation has nearly 150,000 members in this state and the federation, through its president, Allan Kline, has declared war to the death on the plan that President Truman several times plugged in the course of his Western swing.

In the scales in which victory is weighed, organization would in this state seem to press at least as hard as issues. Jacob M. Arvey, Chicago's Democratic boss, is generally conceded to have a firm grip on the wards that produce the big mass vote. Some even go so far as to say that through a kind of holding company operation, Arvey controls the Republicans as well as the Democratc organization in these wards. And that might mean some kind of "deal" in the fall which would upset Dirksen's bravest hopes.

Dirksen Is Handicapped

What remains of the party organization is torn by conflicts. The results of the debacle of 1948 are still apparent. So Dirksen has pretty much singlehandedly been doing the job.

The main issue he has chosen to fight on is a return to isolation, with communism in government as a sideshow. Dirksen tells his audiences that he believed at one time in the Marshall Plan and European co-operation, but he decided that it was Operation Rathole—simply a waste of the taxpayers' money. We've got, he says, to take Europe off the dole.

Took Exactly Opposite Line

During his tour the President took exactly the opposite line.

At almost every stop he told the crowds that America had to help sustain the free nations in order to insure peace in the world. He linked this effort directly with the prosperity and well-being of each community in which he spoke.

Harold Stassen the other day called Truman the best politician and the worst President ever to occupy the White House. The reporters who have gone all the way with the President would be inclined to agree with the first part of that statement. But if Truman's political acumen is of that magnitude, then he must have decided that what the people really want is co-operation and assistance to other nations struggling with the threat of communism.

With due allowance made for the power of organization, Illinois this fall may prove to be a good testing ground for the two points of view. And the outcome is likely to cast a much longer shadow than those of us who are living in this time can possibly appreciate.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

You will pardon me if I feel a little cocky today.

But how often do you have a beautiful, latest-model machine drive up in front of your house, a nice looking young lady alight, dressed in an expensive red coat, knock at your door and call on you?

That's what happened at our house just a little while ago.

I was sitting at my typewriter, getting ready to write a column on the injustice of paying census takers only seven cents a name, when my wife called up from downstairs:

"My gosh, here comes company and look how I am dressed"

I looked out of the window—and there was that shiny blue limousine just coming up the driveway.

The wife rushed upstairs to change her dress—although she looked perfectly all right to me, but you know women—and I rushed downstairs to answer the doorbell.

"How do you do," I said, "won't you come in?"

"How do you do," was the reply, "I am the census taker."

"There goes a column," I said to myself. "How can you write about the poor seven-cents-a-name census takers when they come to your house in a four-thousand-dollar cars?"

At any rate, I started to answer her questions, and when she got through with me I was wondering why in heck they take a census at all for all the information the lady in the limousine asked me.

"What is you first name?" "What is your wife's first name?" "Where were you born?" "Where was your wife born?" "Where were your parents born?" "Your wife's parents?" "How old are you?" "How old is your wife?" "Do you own your home?" 'How many rooms in it?" "What do you value it?" "Is there a mortgage on it?" "How many hours did you work last week?" "With what kind of fuel do you cook?"

That was all-except one other question.

"Your wife is that every-fifth person whose income we have to ascertain. Did you wife have any income last year and what was it?"

"My wife had no income last year," I replied—after she had assured me that the money husbands give their wives for allowance or spending money is not considered "income."

Seven cents a name for that! Multiply seven cents by a hundred and fifty million. Add the cost of operating the census, the printed matter, the office salaries and the hundred and one other incidentals.

What have you? No more than could be accomplished by sending out return postcards to everybody in the country.

I am certainly no statistical expert. But it seems that for the same seven cents a name the government could find out how many radios, television sets, bathtubs, automobiles and other gadgets and conveniences there are in the American home.

That sort of information would help manufacturers and dealers enormously in their business.

But that wouldn't be the government way. That would be getting too much for too little. That would be saving the taxpayer's money instead of wasting it.

That wouldn't be Politics.

Taxes, Taxes, Taxes Taxes, Taxes, Taxes

LONDON—(INS)—Every time a guy takes out his gal in Britain Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir Stafford Cripps get a neat little rake-off in indirect taxation.

Just how much is levied by the exchequer for the privilege of going to a football game, seeing a movie, drinking a glass of beer, putting on a dab of powder, or making lips ruby red?

Sir Stafford was asked to work it out in the House of Commons.

From his figures, if a couple spend a few dollars on every doy luxuries, an amazingly large proportion of it would go in taxation.

Sir Stafford, in a written reply, said:

The tax on a 49 cent packet of 20 cigarettes is about 39 cents.

The tax on a pint of average strength beer is about ten cents.

The tax on an ounce of pipe tobacco is about four cents, varying from brand to brand.

The tax on a 24 cent seat at the movies is ten cents.

The tax on a 38 cent ticket for a football game is three cents.

The tax on lipsticks and face powder is 10 per cent of the wholesale value.

The tax on a $4.65 bottle of whiskey is $3.45.

The standard rate of income tax is nine shillings (1.26) in the pound ($2.80).

Needles And Pins But Hubbie Wins

TOKYO — (INS) — A Japanese housewife wanted her milkman husband to mend what she called his "spendthrift ways".

When after one of their periodic quarrels, he walked out of their house in a huff, Mrs. Matsumi Matsubashi, 32, seized a handful of sewing needles and a nail and swallowed them.

She felt no ill-effects until more than a month later when she began complaining of abdominal pains.

An X-ray showed 11 needles and the nail stuck in her digestive tract.

She was operated on, and the stuff removed.

But now her husband complains that she "wasted money" by doing something that required an expensive operation.

SHORT WHEAT CROP

HARRISBURG, May 18.—(INS)—The 1950 wheat crop in Pennsylvania will fall about 2,800,000 bushels short of the 1949 total, according to estimates announced by the Agriculture Department.

The decline can be pinned on the 46,000 acre reduction and the cold weather hitting the winter grain prospects, the department reported.

The May 1 Federal-State crop report gives wheat production at 18,312,000 against the harvest last year of 21,114,000 bushels.

Hay stocks also were hit by the spring cold spell, the department reported. For the state, pasture condition May 1 was 78 percent normal compared with 89 percent a year earlier.

Mrs. Robert McCullough will serve as president; Mrs. Robert M. Patterson, vice president; Mrs. George Glass, secretary, and Mrs. William Mooney, treasurer.

The meeting opened with the PTA prayer. Written reports were presented by the standing committees on the year's activities. An audit of the treasurer's report was read by Mrs. Gerald Earl.

Many Gifts

Thomas Smathers, principal, thanked the group for the many useful gifts that the association had given to the school during the year.

In response to a motion by Mrs. W. J. Caldwell, a vote of thanks was extended to Mr. Smathers and teachers for the capable manner in which the many administrative difficulties had been handled during the year.

An art exhibit will be held at the school May 23 and will be open from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p. m. This is the first year that the school has had an art course. Under the direction of Mrs. Rachael McClymonds, the pupils have made much progress. The exhibit will include samples of the work done by the students from grades one through eight.

President announced that the school for PTA leadershmip training will be held July 10 to 14 at the Mansfield State Teachers college.

Mrs. Robert McCullough and Mrs. Paul Bees gave interesting reports on the Southwestern conference of the National Congress of PTA held at Washington, Pa.

Fathers' Night

Fathers' Night was observed, with the program conducted by William Grommes. A number entitled "The Birth of a Quartet" was sung in harmony by a group known as the "Castle Chords", which sang several numbers in the favorite barber shop manner. The group consisted of Jack Thomas, Sam Blight, Lyle Erwin and Lyle Gaston, assisted by Jim Morgan and Arch Cubbison.

Special numbers were presented by Louis Round and Art Rigby, accompanied by Miss Gibson. Also two selections were sung by Mr. Cubbison.

An entertaining social time followed, with William Mooney, Ross Rosenberger and Fred Glenn as auctioneers. Refreshments were later served by the fathers, headed by N. J. McClusky.

This was the final meeting of the unit until September.

Housework Easy Without Nagging Backache

As we get older, stress and strain, overexertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions.

If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief — help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

More Americans Getting Less And Less Sleep

By MARGARET WEIL
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, May 18.—The nation's No. 1 sandman reported today that more and more Americans are getting less and less sleep.

Norman Dine, a wide-awake guy whose unique business is solving every insomnia problem from a to z-z-z, peered at the crowds in his famous New York sleep shop and said:

"During the war, people slept pretty well because they were leading a well-directed life. Now, they don't know what to do about their fears and anxiety—so they count sheep instead."

The bed-time census taker estimates that over half a million Americans are lying awake most every night—and he ought to know.

Morpheus Mecca

For 17 years, his shop has been a morpheus mecca where people want to be caught napping bring their problems and others who have invented their own dozing formulas come to tip the Sandman off.

He has accumulated over 600 different types of sleepy-time gadgets—the only enterprise of its kind in the world.

All of them are based on a simple theory that Dine developed because, as he puts it: "I was once an insomaniac myself."

Dine, a former furniture store operator in Lynn, Mass., says he used to get up in the mornings feeling as if "I'd never been to bed."

He claims that no one ever stays awake all night. The test is how you feel.

When he could no longer tell the difference between mornings and the nights before, he decided not to take it lying down." Instead, he headed for Columbia University to study the dynamics of slumber. Those dynamics proved to be the dynamo that catapulted the Sandman into a $500,000-a-year business. Dine explains:

Discovered Secret

"I discovered a secret that helped me so much I decided to try and help fellow sufferers."

His secret: "Most people think that they'll relax if they sleep. But the truth is that they'll sleep if they'll relax.

All Dine's gadgets are designed for relaxation in bed.

Because darkness is more restful than light, one of his favorites is a satin sleep shade that goes masquerade-fashion over tired eyes. Victims of Claustrophobia can wear a special model with tiny peepholes.

To outwit noise, Dine offers ear stops, noise absorbing quartains, and his own special nore kit.

When hubby snores, all the little wife has to do is slip a rubber device into his mouth and he'll breathe through his nose. If that fails, a chin straps will force the mouth closed .

If the snores still persist, the Mrs. can resort to a snore ball—it whistles in the dark every time hubby turns his back!

Advocates Whip To Curb Divorce

BRACKNELL, Berkshire—(INS)—The Reverend J. E. J. Fisher, 63-year-old vicar of Bracknell, is not a violent man but he advocates the use of the "cat-o-nine-tails" or the birch as a deterent to divorce.

"If divorce was recognized as the crime against society as it really is," Rev. Fisher says "and the birch and the cat were the preliminaries to divorce preceedings, we should go far to stay the rot that has set in.

"Life in Britain is deteriorating. Despite what the state may say, a divorced man who remarries is living in sin."

If Parliament wanted to do something "really worthwhile" says Rev. Fisher, it would remove the divorce laws from the statutes of the country.

Alaska's fisheries produce salmon, halibut, herring and shellfish.

Telephone Cord Feast For Dog

CRETE, Neb.—(INS)—Prince, a foxy cocker spaniel, finally has been stopped by a plastic telephone cord cover. Temporarily, at least.

It all started when Prince noticed that his master, vice president G. W. Lindberg of Doane college busied himself too much with telephone calls instead of giving proper attention to man's best friend.

The jealous pup found that by deftly applying his teeth he could sever the cord and put the telephone out of order.

When it was repaired, Prince merely chewed the cord again.

The plastic cord has not stopped the antics of Prince altogether. He has learned since that if he trots over to the administration building of the college and sits near the door long enough he can eventually slip inside.

And where does he head? Straight for the nearest telephone of course.

EAST BROOK

MOTHER-DAUGHTER DINNER

A mother-daughter banquet was held recently at the East Brook United Presbyterian church, with the Men's Bible class serving the dinner. Mrs. Rena Mayberry was in charge of the dinner committee and the program for the evening.

Devotions were led by Betty Snodgrass and prayer by Jean Snodgrass. Mrs. Betty McKee was in charge of the entertainment for the event. The Helping Hands class presented various stunts and games in the form of a broadcast. Prizes went to the oldest mother Mrs. Margaret Houston; youngest Mrs. Harold Iorio, and the mother with the most daughters, Mrs. Margaret Patterson.

IVY WALTON CLASS

Members of the Ivy Walton Bible class entertained their mothers at a dinner held in a New Wilmington tearoom on a recent evening.

The evening was spent informally, with Mrs. Mada Houston winning the door prize. Other prize winners were Mrs. Laura McKnight, Ruth Young, Mrs. Violet Shellenberger, Mrs. Margaret Houston, Vivian Walton, Mrs. Katherine Knight and Mrs. Austin Patterson.

Mrs. Betty McKee and Mrs. Mildred Gibson will be hostesses for the next meeting.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S CLASS

Young People's class met at the home of Marlyn and Joan McKee. Officers were elected for the coming year: president, Lal Baldwin; vice president, Charles Patterson-secretary, Mary Jean Mayberry; treasurer, Bill Decker.

Games were played as a pastime, with refreshments later served by the hostesses, assisted by their mother.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Mayberry, the last Thursday of the month.

EAST BROOK NOTES

Miss Jean Snodgrass of East Brook will tour the eastern states as a missionary to the U.P. churches and the Reformed Churches of America.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wilson and family visited the latter's mother, Mrs. John Davis of Wampum on Sunday.

It is better to get bent from hard work than to get crooked trying to avoid it.

CRANE MAKES A LITTLE WHOOPEE

WITH JUST 36 WHOOPING CRANES left in the world, "Josephine" has good reason for whooping it up. Last Spring, as shown here, "Josie" produced two eggs at the Arkansas Wild Life Refuge, near Corpus Christi, Tex. They proved infertile. Honeymooning with a new mate, "Crip," she has just made news for bird lovers by laying another egg—which may become a 37th whooper-dooper. (International Soundphoto)

Three Pickets Are Held For Court

EVANS CITY, Pa., May 18.—(INS)—An Evans City justice of the peace on Wednesday held three pickets for court on charges of assault and battery and surety of the peace, arising from a scuffle between pickets and two employes of the Universal Manufacturing company in Zelienople.

Squire C. E. McGinniss said neither C. F. Schultz, Tarentum, nor Louis S. Schultz, 39, Natrona, is an employe of the firm. But Harvey W. Eyles, Zelienople, the third picket, does work there. He added a warrant has been issued for—John F. Leahy, Zelienople, another picket.

The scuffle occurred, according to police, when two employes attempted to cross a picket line, consisting of 25 to 30 members of local 3329, CIO-United Steelworkers.

Sixty-one employes of the Butler county plant struck May 1 to enforce demands for a wage increase, seniority rights and pensions.

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK, May 18.—(INS)—Pajama-makers will baby their lady customers next winter with cuddly copies of "Dr. Dentons."

Newest nightwear for 1950 will be "cradle snatcher" pajamas—two-piece ensembles with knit cuffs and anklets, matching booties and bonnet type nightcaps.

The maker, M. C. Schrank, says the only junior gimmick left out is the drop-seat derriere.

The "cradle snatcher" comes in snuggly flannellette, in baby blues and pinks, and in line with the trend back toward more softly feminine clothes.

HERE'S THE BUICK SPECIAL 4-door Sedan; de luxe finish. The same body type is available on SUPER series.

"YOU HARDLY KNOW THE ROAD IS THERE!"

You won't be the first to say that—not by a long shot.

One of the first things you notice, when you step from another make of car into Buick, is the wonderful difference in the Buick ride.

There are good technical reasons, if they interest you . . .

Soft coil springs all around, the gentlest type of spring man knows how to make.

A stout torque-tube, acting like the husky keel of a battleship to steady the whole carriage.

Low-pressure tires on wide, Safety-Ride rims, that stop heel-over and sway on curves.

Firm, sure, quick-acting shock absorbers, promptly snubbing the after-bounce of the bigger bumps.

The important thing is what these all add up to.

Freedom at last from jounce and jiggle. A level, floating, road-free passage over almost any kind of road, with even the worst of them tamed and gentled as never before.

Add Fireball power to all this—the roominess of wide, deep seats—the lightness of Buick controls and the liquid silkiness of Dynaflow Drive*—and you have a car just too good to miss.

Come try one, won't you? Your Buick dealer will be delighted to demonstrate without obligation—delighted to show you that if you can afford a new car, you probably can afford a Buick.

*Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on SPECIAL and SUPER models.

ONLY BUICK HAS Dynaflow AND WITH IT GOES: HIGHER-COMPRESSION Fireball valve-in-head power in three engines. (New F-263 engine in SUPER models.) • NEW-PATTERN STYLING, with MULTI-GUARD forefront, taper-through fenders, "double bubble" taillights • WIDE-ANGLE VISIBILITY, close-up road view both forward and back • TRAFFIC-HANDY SIZE, less over-all length for easier parking and garaging, short turning radius • EXTRA-WIDE SEATS cradled between the axles • SOFT BUICK RIDE, from all-coil springing, Safety-Ride rims, low-pressure tires, ride-steadying torque-tube • WIDE ARRAY OF MODELS with Body by Fisher.

Youth Held In Dual Slaying

PHILADELPHIA, May 18.—(INS)—William R. Toy, 20-year-old accused slayer of two men on a used car lot, has been held without bail on homicide charges.

Toy interrupted his hearing before Magistrate Elias Myers numerous times yesterday to declare: "I'm sorry for all this. My conscience has been hurting me. I need a psychiatrist."

He is accused a fatally shooting Daniel Neary and Alexander Martin during the robbery of a West Philadelphia car lot May 8.

Toy also was held without bail in connection with 26 holdups and robberies and under a total of $55,000 bail on charges of violating the firearms act, stealing 15 automobiles, conspiracy and aggravated assault and battery.

Paul D. O'Neill, 24, and Vincent J. Amatucci, 23, alleged accomplices of Toy in several robberies, also were held without bail.

School Teacher Is Dismissed Because Of Communism

PITTSBURGH, May 18.—(INS)—A Pittsburgh school teacher, accused of being a Communist, was out of a job today.

Miss Dorothy Albert, who taught in Pittsburgh schools for more than 18 years, was dismissed from her position yesterday after she was found guilty of violating the public school code.

The vote of the 14-member school board was unanimous.

Miss Albert read a prepared statement in which she challenged her former pupils, their parents and her teacher colleagues to accuse her of teaching propaganda in her classes.

At a school board hearing May 12, Matt Cvetic and George Dietze, former undercover FBI agents, testified that Miss Albert attended secret meetings of top Communist leaders in Pittsburgh.

The board found:

"Dorothy Albert is an active memoer of the Civil Rights Congress.

"Dorothy Albert is a Communist and an active member of the Communist party."

Dr. Earl A. Dimmick, superintendent of school, said she admitted membership in the Civil Rights Congress, a group branded subversive by the U. S. Attorney General. Dimmick said she denied being a Communist to him, but made no such denial at two school board meetings.

Probe Slugging Of New York Columnist

NEW YORK, May 18.—(INS)—New York and New Jersey opened investigations today into the slugging of Lee Mortimer, New York Daily Mirror crime reporter and Broadway columnist.

Mortimer was battered to the floor of the swank Riviera nightclub, at Fort Lee, N. J., by two thugs. At the same time, New York police began working to learn the identity of the pair Mortimer believes to be paid attackers.

In what is thought to have been a planned attack, the thugs parked their automobile in front of the club, telling the doorman, "we have to see a guy in there for a little while. We'll be right out."

They then cornered Mortimer in the men's washroom. Sidney Kingsley, author of the Broadway hit, "Detective Story," who was with Mortimer, was forced to stand aside by one hoodlum while the other beat Mortimer senseless. The two then fled in their waiting car.

The number of U. S. farms shrank from 6.4 million in 1920 to 5.8 million in 1945.

GRATEFUL GREEKS GIVING GOAT

EFTIKIOS PROTOPAPADAKIS, Crete hunter, sits on a mountain crag with "Kri Kri," a rare goat he captured. He and other mountaineers of his village of Canea are sending the goat, an agrimi, to President Truman in gratitude for U. S. aid to Greece. (International)

Finds Good Cheer Despite Maladies

PHILADELPHIA. — (INS) — Mary O'Connor, who probably will have to spend the rest of her life in the Philadelphia Home for Incurables, has a difficult definition of the word "incurable" than most folks.

Mary had trained for a dual career—as an opera singer and an artist. But twelve years ago she fell and injured her spine and doctors say she will have to spend the rest of her life in bed.

Miss O'Connor refuses to consider herself as an "incurable," or to feel sorry for herself.

The Home for Incurables, she points out, "is a cheerful place full of people who follow a healthy routine of meals, work, hobbies and entertainment, and who sometimes can't find enough hours in the day to do all they would like to do."

These so-called "incurables" she added, feel sorry for the "incurables" in the outside world—incurably short-sighted or incurably bitter.

Mary has refused to let her own illness get her down, so to speak. Since she has been bed-ridden she has written nearly 1500 poems and 127 stories.

She has had articles published in 350 newspapers and magazines. She still draws, and 178 of her sketches have been published.

Manufacturers also are offering pickles flavored with bourbon, Scotch, egg nog, spiced rum, absinthe, brandy, and assorted cocktail tastes.

Whatshisname Fails As GI

SAINT WOLFGANG, Austria—(INS)—Frederick Schwingenscholoegel probably will think twice the next time he tries to "enlist" in the U. S. army.

The 27-year-old Austrian was sharing a hotel room with an American GI in the town of Wels. Schwingenscholoegel kept looking fondly at the spotless well-dressed khaki uniform of his roommate. It was just his size, too.

According to authorities, Schwingenscholoegel arose early, donned the GI's uniform and headed for Saint Wolfgang to impress his bride with his new military career.

Schwingenscholoegel rushed up to his doorstep. Waiting for him —with outstretched arms—were two Austrian policemen.

Court House

Return Board Starts Friday

Votes Cast Tuesday Will Be Audited

At noon Friday the oficial return board appointed by the county commissioners and the court will begin its work of checking the returns of all the precinct election boards.

The return sheets of each precinct will be counted and where there appears to be eror the ballot boxes will be opened and the votes counted.

Ordinarily few boxes are opened, the margin of error being unusually small in elections here. Even when boxes are opened, the errors are found to be human errors with no suspicion of corruption.

You get an honest count in Lawrence county. Sometimes it is not the count you hoped for, but it will be an honest one. Local election boards take their work seriously and get through with their job quickly and accurately.

Sucker Public Pays Billions

NEW YORK, May 18.—(INS)—The American Academy of Political and Social Science says that gambling siphons 13 billion dollars a year from the American "sucker public," and warns against legalizing gambling.

The academy in a report characterized gambling as "a dirty business" with such affiliations to organize crime that it "cannot be kept legitimate."

The report charged that big-time gambling could not operate without political or police protection and added that "protection is bought either directly from the police or indirectly through contributions to political leaders or the political party in power."

The academy urged the elimination of wire services to bookies and contended that this would reduce bookmaking from a "major national racket to a petty local nuisance."

Eight billion dollars in off-track betting on horses; at least one billion dollars on slot machines; a conservative three billion dollars in the numbers racket, and another one billion dollars in sports bets.

Gal Pipe-Smokers Increase In Britain

LONDON — (INS) —Pipe manufacturers report that more and more British women are taking to the pipe in preference to the cigarette.

Before the war a feminine bent for pipe-smoking was a rare eccentricity but today the fashion has grown sufficiently to induce at least one firm to produce a "lady's model" light in weight and with a junior-size bowl.

An official of this firm declared: "Women who try a pipe usually keep on with it. But some fail through lack of patience in mastering the 'art.' They don't seem to realize that a pipe needs perseverance.

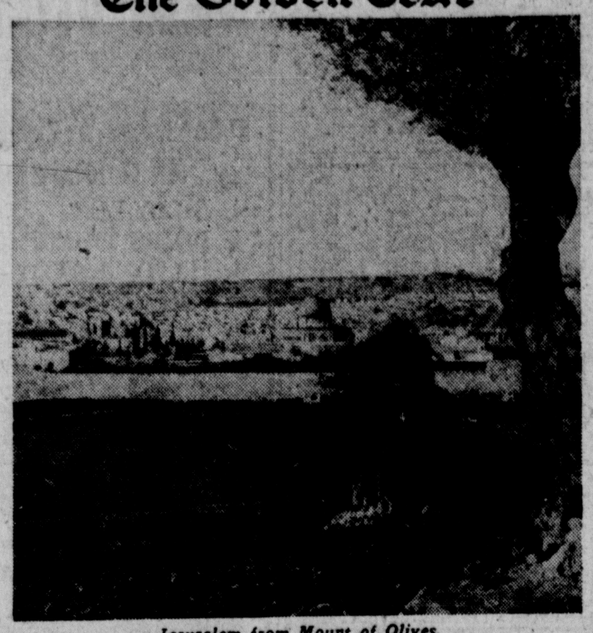

"Women pipe-smokers are not indulging for effect—they do find a pipe more satisfying and economical."

MICAH PLEADS FOR HUMAN RIGHTS

REBUKES LEADERS FOR THEIR UNRIGHTEOUSNESS

Scripture—Micah 1:1, 2; 3:5-12; 6:6-8.

The Golden Text

Jerusalem from Mount of Olives.

"He hath showed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth Jehovah require of thee, but to do justly, and to love kindness, and to walk humbly with thy God?"—Micah 6:8.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

In 722 B. C., the kingdom of Samaria was conquered by the Assyrians. It may be that not all the inhabitants were carried away captive, but the ten "lost tribes" vanished from history.

Extermination threatened also the two tribes of the southern kingdom. In this unhappy period Micah, the Morasthite, arose and prophesied. He told his people that God would surely punish them for their many sins, but that there was a chance for them if they would renounce their evil ways and turn again to Jehovah.

Micah had a vision of a world without wars (about 725 B. C.), when the condition of his world was even more precarious than ours is today. His hope must have seemed very wild and improbable to the people living in that dangerous era.

Like Hosea, Micah pointed out the many sins of his generation. "They covet fields, and seize them; and houses, and take them away; and they oppress a man and his house, even a man and his heritage."

We of this age can appreciate that accusation. We know that in the past few years, especially during the second great world war, millions of innocent people were dispossessed of their homes and driven into strange countries, or left to wander about their homelands to suffer hunger, lack of proper clothing, knowing not where they might lay their heads.

Children usually wake up early in the morning. They may even plan some mischief that they carry out when they get up. That mischief never brings them happiness any more than ill-gotten riches make an adult happy.

In ancient times the loss of ancestral lands was more deeply felt than is often the case today, although there are many now who, after many generations, still cling to the land that their fathers settled years ago and which they deeply love and would be greatly grieved to lose.

The Mosaic law tried to safeguard ancestral lands for their original owners. Micah spoke as one of the people when he told of the oppression home owners were subject to when evil men in power planned to take their lands from them.

Micah had his say about the prophets or religious leaders of Israel who misled the people, lied to them, were spiritually blind. Then there were also seers (supposedly wise men) and "diviners", who were supposed to foretell what was in store for their people, but received, says Micah, "no answer of God".

Micah himself was "full of power by the Spirit of Jehovoh, and of judgment, and of might, to declare unto Jacob his transgression, nad ot Israel his sin." He knew that Jehovah had called him to do this work of warning and attempted redemption to men.

What does the Lord ask of His people on earth? Micah asks the question and answers it:

"Wherewith shall I come before Jehovah, and bow myself before the high God? shall I come before Him with burnt offerings, with calves a year old?

"Will Jehovah be pleased with thousands of rams, or with tens of thousands of rivers of oil? Shall I give my first-born for my transgression, the fruit of my body for the sin of my soul?

"He hath showed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth Jehovah require of thee, but to do justly, and to love kindness, and to walk humbly with thy God."

It seems very simple, does it not, for all of us to obey this command? Centuries have passed since Micah preached this doctrine to his people, and still men lie, covet their neighbors' lands, deceive others, kill and maim, and do all manner of evil.

All know better—all can understand God's requirements to earn His approbation, from the least to the greatest. We can at least try, as parents, teachers, men in public office, from humble posts of trust to the greatest, to follow His commands and teach them to the young.

Library Built By Liniment King

BELLEFONTAINE, O.—(INS)—The tiny Ohio town of Zanesfield has a modern, free library today because Dr. Earl S. Sloan, the liniment king, was rubbed the wrong way when he was 11 years old.

"We have no books to lend a dirty little urchin like you," a librarian at the local "reading circle" told young Edward. The snub made him vow that he would one day see to it that every little boy in town had books to read.

And years later, after talking half the United States into rubbing the other half the right way—with Sloan's liniment—he was able to make good that promise.

Some 12 years after the unhappy library incident Sloan left Zanesfield and subsequently started manufacturing his world famous product, using a formula conceived by his father.

He traveled with circuses and fairs hawking his liniment as "good for man or beast". Out of those colorful days emerged one of the country's most phenomenal success stories.

Sloan fulfilled his vow in 1914 when the $21,00 Dr. Sloan library was constructed. He gave $20,000 to the library as the first endowment and had 1,000 books placed on its shelves.

Today, in accordance with Dr. Sloan's wishes, the library has a special reading room for children, equipped with low furniture. And the railroad tracks that separate the "right" from the "wrong" side of Zanesfield no longer run thru the lives of its children when they set out in search of knowledge.

BEAR QUADRUPLETS

JACKMAN, Me.—Bear quadruplets were reported thriving on a diet of store milk and cereal.

The four two-month-old black bears were turned over to storekeeper Armand Pomerleau by two woodsmen who found them near Moxie Gore. Their mother escaped wounded.

The citizens of Enterprise, Ala. dedicated a monument to the boll weevil in 1919.

Customers' Corner

Since the anti-trust lawyers filed their suit to put A&P out of business, three interesting things have happened.

1. Many thousands of our customers have written letter expressing their opposition to this suit.
2. Public opinion polls reveal that most Americans are on our side.
3. Our business has increased. More people are shopping at A&P than ever before.

All these things indicate that our customers have confidence in the policies of fair, honest dealing which have guided this company for the past 90 years.

We want to do everything we can to merit your continued support.

Horse Show At Wampum June 2 And 3

Wampum Rotary club horse show time is near again.

The show, annually the top horse event in Lawrence county, will be staged Friday evening, June 2, and Saturday afternoon and evening, June 3. Entries close May 26.

A list of classes announced today includes 42 events. It is planned to run 14 of them at each session. Ponies, hackney, musical chairs and western classes are listed, as well as the traditional three and five gaited, jumping and equitation events.

Five stake classes are also listed for Saturday evening. These carry a top prize of $50 and will attract the best horses from the tri-state area. All other events have trophy or monetary prizes, as well as ribbons for the winners.

The services of outstanding specialists have been secured to judge the show. R. H. Brown of Indianapolis will judge the saddle, harness, walking and roadster horses. George Chubb of Sewickley will make the decisions in the jumping horse class. Crate May of Beaver is the western judge. Harold Marshall of Wampum is the ringmaster and Edward Jenkins of Youngstown will be the announcer.

Third U.P. Deacons Will Be Installed

New members of the board of deacons will be ordained and installed at an impressive service in Third U. P. church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Those to be ordained follow: Mrs. Herbert Bintrim, Miss Dorothy Craig, Gerald Potter, Ralph Sacripant and Oren Shearer. Dr. J. Paul Graham, pastor, has chosen "Why Did You Send For Me?" as his sermon theme.

A caravan team from Westminster college will have charge of meetings of the three youth groups, Pioneers, Builders and Fellowship, Sunday evening at 6:45 o'clock in Third church.

Flying Saucers Date Way Back

PARIS.—(INS)—Now the flying saucers have been spotted in the Bible.

They were seen there by a Paris newspaper.

Albert Mousset, writer for the usually conservative daily "L'Epoque," told his readers that the saucers very well might be the "signs in the sky" mentioned in the Bible.

He was referring to Luke, Chapter 21, Verse 11, which reads:

"There will be great earthquakes, there will be terrible phenomena and great signs in the sky."

Nothing new at all in the saucers, explained Mousset. Just look at history.

In 1530 inhabitants of the European empire of Charles V clearly observed an army of knights and armed peasants marching right across the heavens as plain as the nose on your face.

And just two years after that all Germany kept spotting bands of dragons swooping through the skies with faces like pigs.

Even the sensible Swiss reported seeing allegorical scenes enacted in the clouds—and this in broad daylight.

Kunkel Promises Support To Duff

HARRISBURG, May 18.—(INS)—Cong. John C. Kunkel promised full support to Gov. James H. Duff's bid to take a U. S. senatorship away from the Democrats in the November general election.

"The Republicans of Pennsylvania have spoken," Kunkel told reporters. "I bow to their judgement. Now we must unite to defeat the Democrats this fall."

Kunkel, who was defeated by Duff for the senatorial nomination, said he congratulated the governor in a telegram Wednesday morning.

Eagles Auxiliary Has Impressive Memorial Services

Ladies auxiliary to the New Castle Aerie No. 455, Fraternal Order of Eagles, held their regular meeting Tuesday with vice president, Mrs. Orpha McConnell presiding, at which time impressive memorial services were conducted.

During the business meeting the auxiliary made the retiring Honorary Mother, Mrs. Margaret Krueger, an honorary life member.

Mrs. Henrietta Davis was given an important honor when the Grand Aerie named her the secretary-treasurer of the Pennsylvania Membership Organization board.

The Auxiliary's lodge room was decorated with ferns, palms, flowers and white candles at each officer's station. These combined with white satin covers, made the setting for the memorial services exceptionally lovely.

The officers and guards were in white gowns and each carried a white rosebud. The president carried a scroll tied with black satin ribbon and the chaplain carried a wreath of white rosebuds and white gladioli. Candelabra with nine white candles burning, signified the passing of nine members. As chimes were played the president called the name of each deceased member and the condustress snuffed a candle for each name.

The chaplain laid the wreath on the altar and offered the memorial prayer. After each officer had given a memorial speach from her station, the officers and guards marched slowly to the altar and placed their rosebuds around the wreath. Mrs. Catherine Crum sang several appropriate hymns during the service with Mrs. Pearl Jenkins as pianist.

After the services the meeting was resumed and the roses were given to Mrs. Margaret Krueger. The wreath was given to Mrs. Mary Peterson to place on the grave of her granddaughter, Mrs. Betty Frienstein, the last auxiliary member to pass on.

Captain Adaline Navarra called practice for Tuesday, May 23, at 7:30 p. m. for both degree teams who will conduct the installation of new officers Tuesday, June 6. Past President Dorothy Heckart will be the installing officer.

Following the meeting lunch was served by chairlady Mrs. Helen Reno and her aides, the Mesdames Ruby Thompson, Grace McCracken, Kathryn Williams, Dorothy Heckart, Cecelia Jackson, Mary Matey and Miss Laura Williams.

The door prize was won by Mrs. Elsie Pugh.

REST WHEN POSSIBLE

Have you formed the habit of sitting down to any kitchen jobs that may be possible, such as preparing vegetables, making mayonnaise, whipping cream, etc.? That little rest for the feet will mean more energy for the other jobs.

Shenango Band Plans Concert

Second annual concert by the Shenango high school band will be presented Tuesday evening, May 23, at 8:15 o'clock in the school auditorium. The band will present a group of march tunes, some semi-classical numbers and one musical dramatization.

The band will be featured in the "Washington Post March," "Toy Trumpet," "Stout Hearted Men," "Purple Pageant March" and "Strike up the Band." The semi-classical numbers will include "In a Monastery Garden," "Toyland" and "Deep Blues." The musical playlet which tells of a family visit to the park is told in pantomime, with musical interpolation. This musical drama, "A Day in the Park," by Edward Chennette, has Carole Critchlow as Maw, Charles Aiken as Paw, Delores Tomczyk as Lizzie and Dick Kroesen as Johnnie.

Soloists for the program are John Trimble on the trumpet and Joan Johnson, Betty Alford, Buena McIlrath and Barbara Pettit on the clarinet.

The band members are working diligently to make this concert really worth while because they are attempting to raise enough funds to purchase new uniforms. The band is under the direction of Mrs. Charles Balik, head of the music department of the school.

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL

(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, May 18—Loretta Young is not afraid to admit her husband is the boss.

But before any muscle men in the audience get too positive, let us inform them that the bossing is performed between 9 a. m. and 6 p. m.

"After six," said Loretta, "I'm on home territory."

The bossing business takes place at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer film factory where Miss Young is toiling in a dramatic ditty entitled "Cause for Alarm." He hubby, Tom Lewis, wrote the script and is producing the film.

Working for Hubby

Loretta, one-time Academy Award winner, said today:

"This is the first time I've ever worked for my husband. I feel so at home that I don't even realize he is giving orders.

"And there are never any questions about why I am not on the set on time. He knows why—he drives me to work. He wrote me into every scene of the picture, and what more could an actress ask?

"At the dinner table at night after work, whenever I ask him anything about the dialogue or scenes, he merely smiles and says:

"'See me in my ofice in the morning, dear. At home I'm only your husband.'"

LEST WE FORGET

Ruth Roman thinks women have been let-down by the male of the species.

The actress who has more curves than a roller-coaster explained:

"Men have become to independent. And forgetful. A woman has to be just as independent. Otherwise, gals will be standing around with egg on their faces waiting for guys to remember to give them the expected treatment.

"Nothing bores me more than to overhear a man complain of a woman being too assertive, too prone to take care of herself.

"Most men today are too slow in reaching out to light a woman's cigarette for her. No wonder she does it herself."

The star of Warners' "Colt .45" grinned:

"I haven't struck a match for myself in months. This is one gal who expects her guy to remember he's a man!"

Garden Notes For '50 Season

In the vegetable and flower gardens early sweet corn and beans, as well as balsams, verbenas, ageratum and annual phloxes, may be sown now that danger of late frosts is past.

Gaps in perennial or rose borders can be filled at this time by the use of pot grown plants. These plants will require extra care for awhile.

Cannas, dahlias, tuberoses, tuberous begonias and summer hyacinths may all be planted outdoors along with young annual flowering plants so as to get them well established before hot weather sets in.

If tulip bulbs are worth saving but must be moved, they may be heeled-in under shrubbery, until after the tops have ripened, and then stored away in a dry warm place.

Plant aphids, lacewing flies on rhododendrons, oyster shell scale on lilacs, tent caterpillars and the dogwood and flowering quince scale insects should all be watched for and sprayed promptly if discovered.

Outdoor pools may now be filled and planted with tropical plants but it often pays to keep the tender lilies indoors until early June.

Newsprint Probe Will Be Launched

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(INS) — House judiciary subcommittee will soon launch a full-scale investigation of alleged "monopolistic tendencies" in the newsprint industry.

Subcommittee Chairman Celler (D) N. Y., revealed that "certain information that can't be made public now" has prompted House monopoly probers to schedule a thorough investigation.

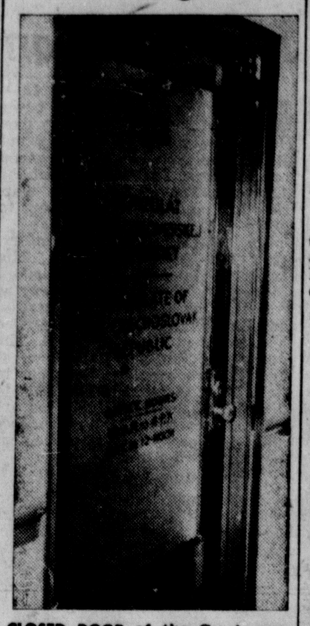

Spurred by reports that prohibitive costs are resulting in the collapse of one newspaper per week, Celler said in an interview that the subcommittee seeks to determine three things:

1. Do newsprint monopolies exist?
2. Have newsprint companies violated anti-trust laws?
3. Must publishers buy newsprint under "undue restrictions?"

The New York congressman also disclosed that the probe will reach into Canada. He stated:

"We will investigate conditions on both sides of the border."

Pro Buck Passer Loan Fund Aid

SAN FRANCISCO — (INS) — When William K. Davis of San Francisco is accused of "passing the buck" he responds with a smile —and for a very good reason.

Davis, by virtue of a $5 bill, is a professional buck passer.

Here is how he got that way.

Back in 1942 Davis spotted a story in the San Francisco Examiner about how the wife of a Pennsylvania state college president found a $5 bill and donated it to a loan fund. The fund eventually grew to $5,000.

Davis, a member of the class of 1916 at Texas A & M, tried the same thing. He had to "scrape" himself, he says to get through school.

He sent $5 to the school to set up such a fund and in seven years 2,111 students have borrowed $22,402.99. Not one has failed to pay up.

During the war a young Naval trainee borrowed a sawbuck from the fund and then he was transferred. A few months later he was killed. But it developed that just before his death he had written home "if anything happens to me send $10 to the Davis buck fund."

One of the first things his mother did after hearing the news was to send $10 to the fund and it has now grown to $648 through student donations.

Too Many Passes Spoil The Press

MANILA—(INS)—The Mayor of Manila has ordered the revocation of all press passes issued early this year after a pickpocket, booked at City Hall, was found carrying one.

Mayor Manuel dela Fuente said new ones will be issued, but only to Manila police authorities in issuing press passes indiscriminately so "that even street vendors own a couple of them."

The mayor's signature and that of Police Chief Eduardo Quintos make a pass valid.

He claimed that he had signed press passes without knowing whether or not applicants were bona fide newspapermen, his sole guidance being a list submitted by Manila publishers.

The mayor said newspaper publishers in the city tended to list all their employes from editors to messengers as press representatives.

"Henceforth," he asserted, "rigid screening will be imposed on applicants before they are issued new press passes."

Checks Raised Says Tallulah

Noted Actress Says Many Checks Are Raised In Year

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN
New York Journal-American Columnist
(Distributed by International News Service)

NEW YORK, May 18.—Fabulous Tallulah Bankhead, currently starring in "Private Lives", has been having a little trouble in her own private life—which she estimated has cost her between $15,000 and $20,000 at last reckoning.

The actress with the explosive personality said she was horrified—"just horrified"—when she went over her cancelled checks for the past year and found more than 100 had been "raised" above their original amounts.

"Talloo" said that, as an example, a check for $27.50 would be altered to $270.50 and that some checks were made out in two colors of ink.

Miss Bankhead asserted she confronted a woman employe, in whom she placed great confidence, with the check-raising charge. "Talloo" said the woman employe threatened to make "false and outrageous charges" about her private life if she dared to take the check-raising case to police.

Accepts Challenge

Now that was a challenge no Bankhead from Alabama would take lying down.

Miss Bankhead declared:

"When that woman had the effrontery to threaten me, I was determined to prosecute.

"I have accordingly instructed my lawyer, Donald Seawell, to examine all the cancelled checks and lodge a formal complaint with the district attorney's office.

(Seawell said: "The matter is under investigation.")

"I was disposed to be lenient until that woman made that ill-advised threat. I understand she has been using my name in trying to get a theatrical job after I had dismissed her.

"The whole matter is regrettable because I had placed such trust in her and had advanced her to the point where she was in charge of many of my confidential matters."

Miss Bankhead, who is now rounding out a tour in Washington, said she would return to New York next week.

Farm Land Values Running Stronger

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(INS)—The Agriculture department reported today that farm lands values in the nation have been running somewhat stronger since, November.

The department said farm real estate values increased slightly from November through March to bring the U.S. average up one per cent.

Small increases in 19 states more than offset decreases in 20 others and helped bring to an end a downward trend noted in 1949.

Land values showed greatest strength in the states from North Dakota and Minnesota southward through Texas and Louisiana. Other strong states include Indiana, Kentucky, North Carolina and Florida.

Elsewhere in the eastern third of the nation, states showed mixed trends, while the Mountain and Pacific states continued the downward trend at a slower pace than last year, the department said.

Married Women In Better Health, Than Unmarried

NEW YORK, N. Y., May 18.—The perennial plaint by wives about what a rugged life they live, slaving away day in and day out at household chores, doesn't stand up any more. The truth is that the American woman thrives on married life, and here are figures to prove it:

During the past half century, according to Metropolitan Life Insurance Company statisticians, the general health of women, as reflected by prevailing mortality, has improved much faster for the married than the unmarried. The death rate for married women at ages 20 and over has been cut in half, from 16 per 1,000 in 1900 to 8 per 1,000 in 1948, while for unmarried women—spinsters, widows, and divorcees—the improvement was only two fifths.

Decline Less Sharp

Among men the decline in mortality since 1900 has been much less sharp—less than one third for both married and unmarried—with the experience somewhat more favorable for married than unmarried men.

Progress in safeguarding pregnancy and childbirth has played a major part in bringing about the mortality gains of married women, according to the statisticians. At the turn of the century, married women at ages under 35 actually experienced a higher death rate than the unmarried, largely because of the hazards of childbearing. At present, the married have a lower mortality at every age.

"Due to the more rapid improvement in mortality for women than for men in recent years, the chances have been increased further that a wife will outlive her husband," the statisticians comment. "The need to provide for the future economic security of the wife, accordingly, has become even greater."

The college fraternity in the United States is as old as the Republic.

Mahoning PTA Has Meeting

Mahoning Band Entertains Group

In the auditorium of Mahoning school on Tuesday evening, the Mahoning school band entertained the Parent-Teachers Association at their final meeting of the present school term, with Mrs. Joseph Zumpella presiding.

Prior to the business session the group was entertained by the band, who looked very colorful as they marched into the auditorium wearing their new red and white uniforms.

Mrs. Gwladys Thomas Polland directed the band, which played a number of selections and marches by Sousa and other composers; Philip Perlozzi and Arthur Micozzi gave trumpet solos; William Brown on flute; Louis Colella, clarinet; Frank DeFelice represented the school orchestra with a violin solo, all accompanied by Miss Jean Webber, school vocal teacher.

Following the program, business was opened by Mrs. Harry Freeman reading the PTA prayer. Preschool parents were welcomed as guests and introduced to first grade teachers. Mrs. Walter Stone, secretary pro tem, read minutes of previous meeting. Mrs. Joseph Bordonaro gave report of auditing committee, which was very favorable. The president expressed her appreciation for the splendid cooperation of all who helped to make the 1949-50 school year a very successful one.

During the meeting, circulars were distributed among the members, which listed the activities and accomplishments of the PTA during the year. Mrs. Arthur M. Brown and Mrs. George Kilmer were named as representatives to attend school board meetings. The cub scouts, sponsored by the PTA, have been progressing nicely. They will have a pack meeting on Friday, May 26, and at that time they will be granted their charter, and will sponsor a project on May 27.

Mrs. Harry Freeman and Mrs. James Kennedy gave an interesting report on the Southwestern conference held at Washington, Pa. This group was well represented at the conference. It was voted to send a contribution to National Congress of Parents and Teachers for its new home which will be erected in Chicago.

Mrs. Clarence Snyder introduced and presented the newly elected officers to principal Fred McLure. By BENNETT CERF

Absent-minded professor story number 63,871: the math wizard who left his berth for a glass of water and couldn't remember the right number when he returned. He appealed helplessly to the porter, who asked, "haven't you an idea of what part of the car it was in?" The mathematician pondered, and suddenly piped up, "Ah, yes, I remember now that at one time this morning the window looked out on a beautiful lake."

"Girls, sniffed Farmer Jones disdainfully, as he whittled beside the general store cracker barrel. "Girls are a dime a dozen where I come from." A red-headed youngster in the corner looked up and sighed, "Gosh all hemlock, and here I've been buying only lollipops."

After a minor collision on Commercial street in Provincetown, Eve Backer jumped out of the car that had been hit and expostulated, "What came over you? I turned exactly the way I signaled." "I know you did," confessed the other driver meekly. "That's what confused me."

Mayor's Double In New York

NEW YORK, May 17.—(INS)—New Yorkers, who are not accustomed to seeing their peregrinating mayor face to face, have been reporting Bill O'Dwyer in oddly assorted places during the past ten days.

The mayor has been seen on the subway, at Bedloe's Island (the Statue of Liberty to you), in a Hansom cab, on Broadway, at "Detective Story", on the Third avenue el and even casing Grant's tomb.

Their confusion at spotting the peripatetic mayor in town is easily explained: Hizzoner's double, Pat O'Brien, is in town and showing the sights to his third offspring, Terence, 8.

One In N. Y. Is O'Brien

"Naturally, people ought to know by this time that the one in New York is O'Brien," the movie actor said today. "That's how you tell us apart. I'm the one in L'il Ol' New York."

The two men are such dead "ringers" for each other it is difficult to determine which one most resembles the other.

Fortunately, they tell themselves apart, for there have been times when Eloise, Mrs. O'Brien, has been confused and the New York police befuddled by the alikeness.

"They once went to church together, each wearing a dark blue suit," Eloise O'Brien said, "and when I went to church to join them, I couldn't tell which was which for a minute."

"And the last time I was in New York, I went to the ball park with Bill," added Pat, "the cops formed a bodyguard, a kind of flying wedge, and rushed me into the park park on the double, leaving Bill to get in as best he could."

Hizzoner went all the way out to California (what again?) to act as godfather when the O'Briens' youngest, Kathleen Briget, 3, was christened.

About Evens Up

If the mayor spends a goodly part of his time and money getting away from New York, Pat O'Brien spends every vacation and any spare clams bringing himself, Mrs. O'Brien and one of the kids to New York.

This happens to be Terry's inning and his old man is giving him the big $5 tour of the city, from soup to subways. The two oldest O'Brien children, Margaret Mary, 16, and Patrick Sean, 13, have had their turn. Kathleen's is coming up when she is a bit older.

The O'Briens felt a vacation indicated at this time since papa has two films ready for release, "Johnny One Eye", a gangster film based on a Damon Runyon story, and "Ball of Fire", in which Pat once more plays the role of a priest.

"This is the fourth time I've played a priest in the movies," said Pat, "and any day now you can expect to hear that I've been ordained."

Pat is a one-man Chamber of Commerce for New York City. Others may curse it, but this is the city he loves.

"My father, God rest him, always said 'there's only one Paris and that's New York' and no truer word was ever spoken," the actor declared.

But unlike most converted New Yorkers, it took an act of God in the form of four kids to get Pat out to the Statue of Liberty and up the Empire State building. Never went near 'em till he started his personally conducted tours for the O'Brien offspring.

Pat is probably the only actor of stage, screen and radio who ever had a cablegram relayed to him through Buckingham palace. Four years ago Pat and Eloise went to London to appear at the annual cinema command performance.

"Afterwards we were presented to the king and queen," Pat related, "and I'm bowing right from the waist over the hand of the queen. Honey, I'm really giving it, when some one snaps a picture of this mick at half mast in front of their majesties.

"Well, the picture was published in New York and Pat Harrington, that old son of the sod, sent me a cable in care of Buckingham palace.

"The palace rerouted it to Dublin where I was by that time. But I figure the message ruined me with royalty because it read: 'Great picture. If you leaned over any further, every Leprechaun in Ireland would have kicked you—good'."

Art Exhibit At Clen-Moore School

Children at the Clen-Moore school recently held an art exhibit under the direction of the art instructor, Mrs. Rachael McClymonds.

At the last meeting of the school's P.T.A., Mrs. McClymonds discussed in detail the handicraft work done at the school during the year. She explained the necessity of art in the school curriculum and told that much could be accomplished by the various grades during a year's time.

Parents later visited the rooms and viewed the projects that had been completed. The first grade exhibit featured a farm scene on the blackboard, with a giant-sized farmer. A circus scene was displayed in the second grade.

A desert arrangement, complete with camels and palm trees, had been arranged by the third and fourth grades. Fifth and sixth grade students showed posters of flowers, masks of paper bags, and cleverly painted paper plates.

For a delicious ice cream sauce, mix a half cup each of butter or margarine and sugar; add a cup of cream and heat to boiling. Mix in some finely chopped preserved fruits and serve.

Estimate Rocket Made 3,500 Miles Per Hour Speed

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(INS)—Navy experts estimated today that their record-smashing Viking rocket achieved a speed of 3,500 miles per hour in its 106.4 mile trip into the heavens over the South Pacific.

The rocket, fired by the guided missile ship U.S.S. Norton Sound was the first American-made space vehicle to approach or exceed the performance charactreistics of the war-made German V-2 rockets.

In effect, the Viking carried a 750-pound payload to approximately one-fourth the altitude and at one-fifth the speed that would be necessary to create a man-made satellite — a second moon that would revolve indefinitely around the earth.

The Norton Sound launched the rocket for upper atmosphere research at a point on the equator near Christmas Island late Thursday night. The ship is now proceeding toward Pearl Harbor where it is due Monday.

From the Norton Sound's meager radio reports and the known power of the mighty Viking, the following conclusions could be drawn.

1. The rocket at its maximum speed was traveling at around 3,500 miles an hour, exceeding by 1,000 miles an hour the upward speed of the V-2.

2. The Viking's payload of scientific instruments, the largest quantity yet used in a Viking, weighed close to 750 pounds. The heavier V-2 carries a payload of 2,000 pounds.

3. The scientists aboard the Norton Sound must have solved the problem of keeping the long, pencil-shaped Viking vertical to the axis of the earth during its flight

For the first four months of this year they have produced more than a billion and quarter eggs—60 million more than for the same period last year.

April's total was 327 million, 6 million under March but 15 million above April 1949, according to the department.

Jap Eye Surgeon Wants A 'Bank'

TOKYO.—(INS) — A Japanese eye surgeon, who has succeeded in restoring the sight of 97 among the 164 blind persons he operated on wants to create an "eye bank" to make his work easier.

Dr. Yasushi Nakamura, professor at the Nippon Medical University in Tokyo, has been grafting healthy corneas obtained from eyeballs of the dead to replace clouded corneas that impair sight. The cornea is the transparent part of the coat of the eyeball covering iris and pupil.

He explains that the success of his operation depends very often on how fresh the healthy eyeballs he requires are. He said:

"The main difficulty is to obtain eyes from people who have been dead only two to three days."

That is why Dr. Nakamura wants to establish an "eye bank" patterned after the blood banks now in common use for transfusions. The banks would be supplied by persons with healthy eyes who would bequeath them to the institution when they die.

Bettors Attention! Bookies Never Lose

LONDON — (INS) — There is a moral to this story—that nothing in this world can be had for nothing.

Not long ago, Leonard Michael Hudson, 42, won a large sum of money in a football pool.

But when he was arrested some months later, he was destitute, and a vagrant.

A probation officer at a West London court said that after winning the money Hudson gave up a good job, took a long holiday, and began betting heavily.

He got into difficulties and had to move from his home.

Then he got another job but disappeared after stealing $52.80 from the office.

Magistrate E. R. Guest, putting Hudson on probation for a year for stealing the money, said it was "all as a result of what some people would regard as a stroke of good fortune."

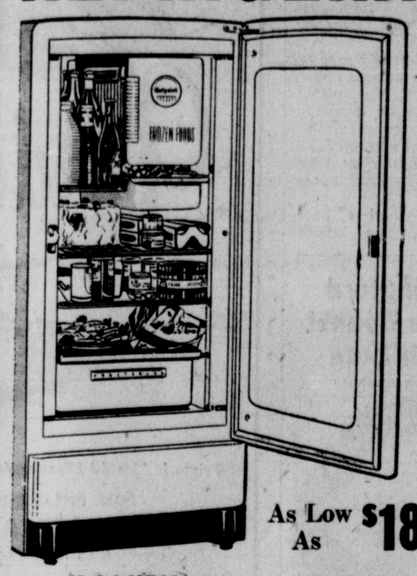

Turning to Hudson he added:

"If bookmakers can live from betting, and they look as if they can, then you can't."

"There is absolutely nothing in this world to be had for nothing.

Reptile Sellers Take Holiday

MOULTRIE, Ga.—(INS)—Two south Georgia men who sell rattlesnakes by the foot are through with their dangerous business-hobby for another season, and their families are breathing much easier.

Louie Bailey and Bill McKinnon, of Moultrie, have spent four profitable winters without a mishap in an undertaking which permits only one mistake.

Bailey, who is a painter, and McKinnon, a farmer, catch about 150 live rattlesnakes during each "open season".

They sell the reptiles to parks, zoos and exhibitors for $1 a foot. The length of the average rattler is about five and a half feet.

The death of a neighbor's son from a rattlesnake prompted the two men to become hunters of the deadly reptiles.

They use a shovel for digging the snakes out of their winter homes—usually old gopher holes near swamps.

Then the snakes are caught with a special clamp and put in heavy canvas bags. A box for carrying a dozen or more snakes is carried with additional gear in the rear of an automobile.

The two snake-hunters have caught as many as 15 rattlesnakes in one day, and as many as four in one hole.

Men Turn Tables And Go Longhair

LONDON — (INS) — Vanity has gone to the head of the British male.

The increasing demand by men for more stylish modes to suit the vogue for long hair was cited by William George, president of the British National Hairdressers Federation.

George said that men are growing hair longer than their wives and the time is not far off when women hairdressing experts will have to be employed in men's salons to look after the tresses of mere male.

Addressing the annual meeting of the federation, George said:

"The average male is taking more interest in his hair. He is wearing it much longer and in more stylish modes. On the other hand, women, with their present trend in fashion of razon cutting, urchin cuts, tulip cuts and other short hair styles, are rapidly reversing the order of the day."

Asserting that young male barbers will not be able to give satisfaction to future "Samsons" requiring a particular permanent wave or set for their locks, Mr. George said that the substitution of the lady barber should cause no great disturbance.

GREEN GRASS

Late last summer our lawn developed several extensive unsightly brown patches upon which the starlings spent interminable periods poking for food. Lifting the dead sod from a corner of one of the patches disclosed what I had suspected, a heavy infestation of the Japanese bettle grubs. The voracious insects destroy the grass by feeding on its rots.

Of course, there are other causes for brown spots, too. They include over-watering, lack of topsoil, to much chemical fertilizer, dogs, debris buried by the contractor, etc. However, the chances are that grubs are responsible for the condition. Lifting a bit of the dead turf disclose them if they are the culprits. If the infestation is heavy, the turf may be rolled back like a rug.

Obviously, grass will not thrive unless the pest is destroyed. Poisoning with lead arsenate or with the new chemical chlordane is effective. The lead arsenate is applied at the rate of one-pound for each one-hundred square feet of surface. A lawn 100x20 feet would require twenty pounds of the poison.

Since the lead arsenate is very palpable, it must be mixed with a suitable vehicle to facilitate its application. Ten pounds of the powder thoroughly mixed with one bushel of dry sand is about right. Sprinkle by hand or with an applicator, and pick out a day when the grass is dry.

Applying, wet it down thoroughly with a garden hose, making certain that no pieces remain for dogs to pick up. Shortly after the application, the angle worms will come popping up out of the gronud. They should be raked up with a leaf rake and buried elsewhere. Even if the robins get away with some of the savory worms it will do no harm since the quantity of poison which may be clinging to the worms is very minute. Contrary to what any one may tell you, a lawn is improved by the elimination of fishing worms. Those of you who take pride in smooth greensward know what ugly spots may result from the so-called castings from a worm's burrow.

Shortly after the grubs begin they will soon sicken and die. One feeding on the poisoned grass roots arsonate treatment is usually effective for eight or ten-years, and it controls the June beetle grub as well as the Japanese species.

Five percent chlordane dust may be used at the rate of five-pounds per each thousand square feet. Scatter evenly and then thoroughly water into the soil. Chlordane is effective for three years against Japanese bettle grubs only. This chemical is the active ingredient of one or two commercial products already on the market.

BYWAYS

About two-weeks ago excitement reigned at our supper table when he glanced out the yard and saw a bluebird attempting to get into the two wren houses which we have along a paling fence. Since the openings were to small, I rushed out with a stepladder and a jackknife and attempted to enlarge the entrance of one of the houses.

Since this was the first bluebird that we had actually seen in our backyard since 1932 we were more than anxious to accomodate it. However, all the fuss and effort availed us nothing. The next time that we have such a distinguished visitor we shall be ready for it.

Bluebirds are not at all fussy about a house. They will accept any kind just so long as it is large enough; one 8x10 inches being about right. The inch and one-half round opening should be placed up near the top. A stoop consisting of a stick projecting outward just below the doorway is handy. Place the house on a tree trunk or pole five to ten-feet above the ground, and away from shrubbery or other growth.

To discourage the sparrows from taking possession one local resident attached a sign with the legend: "For bluebirds only."

WAR BATTLEGROUND

ALBANY, N. Y.—(SF)—Of the 308 engagements of the Revolutionary War, nearly one-third of the battles were fought in New York.

London Cat Club Seeks Celebrities

LONDON—(INS)—Arthur Towe 61-year-old bus conductor and chairman of the Croydon (London) Cat club, is looking for "celebrity cats."

He wants them for a London cat show which will be held in September and which is expected to attract more than 2,000 entries.

The "celebrity cats" are scheduled to "star" in the show.

Towe has one cat which was buried for a week under a ton of coal at Croydon and he expects that another, a champion which disappeared from a London show and wandered about for six weeks, will also be on show.

Other features of the show will be sections for the best household pets and the heaviest cats.

The exhibition's object is to arouse interest in English pedigree cats and to encourage the export of British cat breeds to the United States.

Towe's wife, Elsie, became interested in cat breeding in 1936 when the couple were given two Siamese kittens as a wedding gift.

They now have ten Siamese cats and so far have won some 200 prizes in shows all over Britain in the last four years.

CALLED PARISHES

BATON ROUGE, La.—(SF)—Subdivision of Louisiana are called parishes instead of counties.

REFRIGERATOR TIP

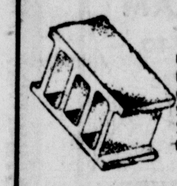

Don't pack your refrigerator full of food, packages and cans. Free circulation inside the box is very important to adequate refrigeration. Don't make a pantry out of your refrigerator. Everything you put in it takes leectric power or gas to cool, and therefore, runs up your costs.

HOW TO COOK CHEESE

Because cheese becomes tough and stringy if too much heat is used, melt over low heat and add to hot dish before removing them from the heat. It's less apt to curdle than when combined with flour in a white sauce.

Rapid-firing machine gun was patented by Richard J. Gatling in 1862.

Revise Manners Code For Lady Auto Drivers

LOS ANGELES, (INS)—Public safety officials of the Automobile Club of Southern California have issued a revised "Code of Manners" for women auto drivers.

And all because male drivers are much too chivalrous.

They blamed outmoded chivalry practices and other forms of motoring distractions for about 25 per cent of all traffic accidents.

Joseph E. Havenner, the club's public safety manager, had this to say on the subject of gals behind the wheel.

"The motorist has trouble enough just keeping his eyes on the road. His female companion has no right to take offense when little considerations normally due her sex are disregarded."

This means that such gallant male courtesies toward the opposite sex as opening dors, lighting cigarettes and picking up gloves and packages off the car floor no longer are considered good manners.

Havenner continuing to blast convention, said:

"When a motorist ...ist his feminine companion in or out of a car, it often becomes necessary for him to enter or emerge in a traffic lane, thus creating a serious traffic hazard. A woman passenger should never permit a driver to follow her into or precede her out of a car.

HINTS FOR THE BOYS

"I have in this morning's mail the following letter from a girl:

"Boys think girls take clothes too seriously. My complaint about boys is that they don't take their clothes seriously enough. The other evening I had a date to go to a dinner dance. Naturally, I wore a dinner dress but my escort arrived in a business suit. Why is it that they think they can get away with that sort of thing?"

Answer: Boys, take this as a hint. Dress to suit the occasion. Here are a few hints that I might add.

Be well groomed but never obviously dressed up in the latest fads and furbelows. Always have your hair combed and your face free from even the slightest stubble—your hair cut regularly but no "loud" hair or face lotions, those obvious signs of a recent visit to the barber shop.

Remember that a gentleman is always well dressed but never overdressed. See to it that your clothes are regularly pressed and cleaned and free from the slightest rips, tears and spots. Have your shoes shined daily. Have proper clothes for every occasion.

When your lady decides to wear a dinner dress, wear your own or a borrowed dinner jacket. If you do, you will make a big hit. If you don't your dates will be numbered. Girls are very disappointed when they "dress" and their escorts appear in business suits.

Question: I shall soon marry a widower and would like to have his five-year-old daughter act as flower girl. Would this be correct?

Answer: It would certainly be entirely correct and besides would give every indication to the public that the child and her future stepmother are on the very best of terms.

Present your problems to Miss Markel, who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

"How Do You Stack Up?"

Youngsters in their teens are pretty sure to develop some ideas that are worth listening to. A few years ago Katherine Whiteside Taylor, then consultant in family life education for the Seattle public schools, recorded what some of the Seattle youngsters thought about home, family and, particularly, parents. Let's "bend an ear" to what they have to say and then ask ourselves, "How do we stack up?" (Their comments are given verbatim.)

Joint Planning: "We want parents who realize we're growing up and stand beside us, not over us, the kind who are ready to talk things over instead of trying to boss us. We do want the benefit of their guidance in important matters, but we don't want to be nagged about every little thing . . ."

Respect: "We want our parents to respect us and treat us like teen-age people, not children. It is fine when they say, 'You're old enough to decide for yourselves' and even to ask our advice on family problems . . . Of course, we want to respect our parents, too, and be really proud of them."

Responsibility: "We want to do our share of family tasks and duties, but why can't we talk over who is to do what and why? Then it's all the more interesting and we can feel home is really ours, too. But we need free time to get our homework done."

Friendships: "Parents should understand we need both boy friends and girl friends, let us choose them for ourselves and make them all feel welcome at our house. Of course, we want Dad and Mom to know our friends and be in the house when they're there but not hang around all the time. We want to have some fun just in our own way. Then we feel like staying home more."

Educator Blasts Education Ways

BRIGHTON, England.—(INS)—Dr. G. B. Jeffrey, director of London University's Institute of Education, blasted British education techniques and pleaded for a "slow down in specialization at our universities."

"One can see no end to the process of knowing more and more about less and less, until in the end it is knowing everything about nothing."

Jeffrey said in some respects the universities were behind the schools.

"Any decent schoolmaster gives some meaning to character building in thinking about his work, but now many professors feel that character building is an important part of their job?"

Wallace Sharps, 25-year-old president of the Association of London Students, agreeing with Dr. Jeffrey, said:

"Degree-bearing ignoramuses are in short supply in this country."

George Becka became the first Mid-Atlantic hurler to register three wins and no defeats, last night as the likeable right-hander set down the Niagara Falls Citizens on six hits as his mates, the young hustling Senators banged out a 13 to 1 win.

The victory number nine against but two defeats ran the Senators skein to five straight since dropping to Erie last Friday, and increased their league lead over Oil City in the runnerup spot by two games, Oil City having passed Butler by taking Erie 7 to 3, as Vandergrift blasted the Tigers 13-5, to drop the Butler entry two and a half games behind.

Stage Uprising in Fifth

The Senators broke a 1-1 deadlock in the fifth inning with an uprising that produced six runs on five walks, three wild pitches and four hits. Becka who besides hurling a steady game, had three hits in four trips, banged out two of his hits in the big inning, while Al Mouton had a single and Herm Kiel, a single knocking in two runs.

New Castle routed starter Art Fulton in this uprising, teeing off on his replacement for three runs before Charles Donnelly put out the fire. Fran Zeisz and Arnold Kufrin also saw action in the wild ball game.

Score Four In Seventh

In the seventh three errors were grouped around a triple by Eikenberg, to score four runs. Two walks and a hit—batsman also aided the Senators' cause. Eikenberg stole home on the second half of a double steal originated by Bilo from first base.

In the ninth a double by Becka came with two outs. Bilo walked and Becka went to third on a wild pitch, and scored on a second wild pitch with Bilo scoring as the ball got away from the catcher.

Becka Fans Eleven

Becka preserved a one-run exhibition although walking ten, as he bore down in the clutch to strike out 11, leaving 15 men stranded.

Chipple and John Ludtka paced the Citizens with two hits apiece. The Falls one run came in the second on a walk to Allen Yearick and Ludtka's double.

Horne Leading Batter

Bill Horne, the hard-working Senators' catcher continued his sensational hitting last night, getting two for three, to boost his batting average to the .400 mark, having .375 to lead the regulars going into the Niagara Falls game.

The Senators have five men batting over .300, and have stolen 19 bases in 11 games, which shows a running, hustling club. Ackerman, Horne, Kiel, Vizzini and Bilo are in the charmed circle.

Butler Here Saturday

The Butler Tigers currently one of the hottest teams in the league will appear at Flaherty Memorial Field Saturday for a double-header with The Senators, the first game starting at 7 o'clock. There will not be a game here next Sunday, The Senators being guests of Al Scarazzo, the president of The Senators, at the Indians-Yankee double-headed in Cleveland. A big special train is being run to Cleveland for the games.

Next Tuesday, May 23rd has been designated as "Boost The Senators Night", with Johnstown appearing here. There will be a big surprise for the fans on Booster Night. It is hoped that at least 2,000 fans will greet the team here next Tuesday and also Saturday for the Butler double-bill.

Frankie Gustine Released By Browns

ST. LOUIS, May 18.—(INS)—Infielder Frankie Gustine has been given an unconditional release by the St. Louis Browns.

The Browns released the thirty-year-old veteran yesterday, only five days before Gustine was to become a ten-year man in the majors.

Track Team Is Ready For District Meet

New Castle high track team will enter the WPIAL finals at Cannonsburg Saturday. Only personnel that finished one, two, or three in the regional meet here last week are eligible.

New Castle entrants will therefore be limited as the team has a scarcity of first-place men and has fared well this year on team balance.

Frank Connors in the 880 and Ed Fassinger in the discus will compete along with Bob Wynn in the broad jump, Merril Reed in the high jump and the mile and half-mile relay teams.

Due to a scorer's error the results of the New Castle-Meadville track meet were recorded erroneously yesterday. Meadville won the meet, 69 to 58.

New Castle was making no effort to claim the meet and the Red Hurricane scorers called the News soon after the paper reached the streets and wanted it made clear that a very good Meadville team had won.

Bobby Jones Faces Operation Today

BOSTON, May 18.—(INS)—Former golf king Bobby Jones undergoes an operation at Lahey Clinic today to correct a spinal ailment caused by an accident 20 years ago.

An examination earlier this week at the clinic disclosed that the Atlanta, Ga., attorney, is suffering from pressure on the spinal cord caused by "a bone up near the base of the skull".

Ellwood Ties New Galilee, 5-5

Ellwood and New Galilee played a 5-5 tie last night in County league action at New Galilee.

The action was called at the end of six and a half innings of play. The game will be replayed tonight.

Other county teams are slated to play Friday evening. St. Lucy meets Bessemer at Bessemer, Kopple is at Hillsville, and New Galilee is at Ellwood VFW. Wampum draws bye.

Alumni nominated for places on the 13-man Penn State Athletic Advisory Board are B. M. Hermann, of Boalsburg, W. R. Rice, of Harrisburg, Cooper French, of Philadelphia, and Dick Schuster, of Binghamton, N. Y. Two of the four will be elected for three-year terms.

Such Is Golf

PHILADELPHIA, May 18.—(INS)—Felix McCann, Philadelphia bartender, has a mixed opinion of his own golf game today.

McCann scored a 230-yard hole-in-one at Juniata golf club yesterday.

On the next hole, McCann dropped the ball five feet from the cup—and used three putts before sinking it.

Marathon tennis matches are getting to be a habit with University of Detroit players. Dick Russell of Detroit and Kalamazoo's John Sunderland battled three hours to a decision, Sunderland winning in two sets, and still more recently Titan Captain Al Renuart went three hours before edging Wayne University's Tom Sayres in three sets.

Mercantile Loop Has Three Games

Three contests were played Wednesday evening in the opening of the New Castle Mercantile league.

There were no presidents on hand to toss out the first ball, as a matter of fact, crowds were pretty scarce at the Deshon Annex scene of action.

However, there was lots of softball and the participants enjoyed the spectators' nightmare.

Post Office stopped Bell Telephone, 13 to 5. B & O whipped the New Castle Store, 11-3, and Business college kicked the extra point to edge Penn Power, 14-13. The News and Jewelry school contest was postponed.

New York Giants Purchase Jorgensen

NEW YORK, May 18.—(INS)—The Brooklyn Dodgers have sold infielder John (Spider) Jorgensen to the New York Giants for an undisclosed amount of cash.

Sale of the 30-year-old third baseman brought the Dodgers down to the 25-player limit. Jorgensen, handicapped by a bad arm, appeared in 33 games last year and hit .269. He was used in only two contests this season.

To make room on the roster for Jorgensen, the Giants sold 39-year-old catcher Ray Mueller to the Pittsburgh Pirates in another cash transaction. The Giants also announced that they have asked for waivers on Mike McCormick, veteran outfielder.

SPORT SHORTS

Seniors at the Pennsylvania State College have dedicated their class yearbook, the 1950 La Vie, to Bob Higgins, former football coach. Higgins served his alma mater as head coach for 19 years, retiring March 12, 1948.

Penn State's new football coach, Charles A. "Rip" Engle, will be officially welcomed by Western Pennsylvania alumni at a dinner to be held in Pittsburgh May 19. Engle assumed his new position May 1.

Pirates Purchase Ray Mueller, Send McCall To Indians

PITTSBURGH, May 18.—(INS)—The Pittsburgh Pirates Wednesday purchased 38-year-old catcher Ray Mueller from the New York Giants for the $10,000 waiver price, and optioned pitcher John McCall to Indianapolis on a 24-hour recall.

The Bucco roster now conforms to the midnight deadline limit of 25. McCall's option to the Pirate farm team in the American Association apparently indicates confirmation of his purchase from the Boston Red Sox who sold the left-hander to Pittsburgh on a tentative basis.

Mueller, a former Buc catcher in 1939 and 1940, has played infrequently with the Giants this year, and his purchase by Pittsburgh was a surprise because the Pirates previously had refused a possible trade involving catcher Walker Cooper who then was traded by Cincinnati to Boston.

Mueller hit .243 for New York last season in 88 games.

Allegheny Netmen Whip Westminster

Westminster College racquet wielders were blanked 9-0 yesterday by Allegheny College at Meadville.

Doubles—Bynane and Huff (A) defeated Totzke and Lash 6-4, 6-4. Hartough and Mustiou (A) defeated Gavett and Curtze 4-6, 6-1, 6-1. Segel and Minor (A) defeated Hawbaker and Councilor 6-2, 1-6, 6-2.

Nicholson Goes On Retired List

PHILADELPHIA, May 18.—(INS) — Injured outfielder Bill (Swish) Nicholson went on the voluntarily retired list for 30 days as the Phillies pared down to 25 players Wednesday.

Pitcher Jocko Thompson helped the Phils get down to the limit also by taking a train to Toronto on 24-hour recall.

Nicholson has been bothered by a bad leg this spring and appeared only in pinch-hitting roles.

Thompson, nursing a sore flipper most of the spring, appeared in but one game for the Phils this season.

Mr. Louis Zimmerman, of Elizabeth, Penna., with a 53 inch fish caught at McConnell's lake, located five miles north of Harlansburg on Route 19. The fish, a 32 pound sturgeon put up a terrific fight for over 20 minutes and broke water several times. Sturgeons are valued for their flesh and as a source of caviar and isinglass. Mr. Zimmerman's fish is one of the largest caught in Lawrence county in some time.

Relief Pitchers Will Get Assist

CLEVELAND, May 18.—(INS)—Even relief pitchers in the Cleveland stadium are getting relief nowadays. They don't have to make that long walk from the bullpen to the mound anymore.

Tribe General Manager Hank Greenberg started a drive to cut down wasted time and speed up ball games last night when he brought in a red jeep to transport the relief hurlers to the pitcher's box.

The jeep line made five trips, hauling help for the Philadelphio A's twice and the Indians three times.

But the game lasted two hours and 41 minutes.

Vermont issued the first copper cents in the United States in the 1780s.

Banquet To Honor Titan Athletes

Westminster college annual banquet honoring its athletic teams will be held tonight at Ferguson hall on the campus.

More than 200 athletes, cheerleaders, and guests are expected to attend.

Weeb Eubanks, assistant coach of the Cleveland Browns, will be the main speaker and will show films about the Browns.

Johnny Podrasky, a blocking back in the single wing, is cast in a new but not unfamiliar role under Penn State's new football coach, Charles A. "Rip" Engle. Podrasky, an outstanding center as a schoolboy at Jessup, has been returned to this position in Spring drills.

Cleveland Browns Sign Up Two More

CLEVELAND, May 18.—(INS)—Two more signed contracts for 1950 have been received by the Cleveland Browns.

Coach and General Manager Paul Brown announced the signing of veteran end Mac Speedie and rookie Tom Clavin, fullback from Villanova.

In his four years with the Browns, Speedie has snagged 211 passes for a total of 3,554 yards. He led the league in the pass-receiving department in 1947, 1948 and 1949 and was named on the all-conference team each of the three years.

Clavin played three years at Villanova under Jordan Olivar and Jim Leonard.

Kentucky territory was discovered by Pere Marquette and Louis Joliet around 1673.

Name Canadian Head Of Kiwanis

Announcement By Mellor: Currie Speaker

It was announced at Wednesday noon's luncheon meeting of New Castle Kiwanis club by President A. H. Mellor, that Don. H. Murdoch, president of the Peerless Laundry, Ltd., at Winnipeg, Manitoba, had been elected at the convention of Kiwanis International at Miami, Fla., last week, to succeed J. Hugh Jackson of Palo Alto, Cal., as president of Kiwanis International.

The new president, who will assume office August 1, served as vice president during the past year. He has also been an international trustee and governor of the Western Canada Kiwanis District. As a veteran of World War I, he fought with the Canadian Army in France, Belgium and Germany.

Other Officers

Vice presidents are Claude B. Hellman of Baltimore, Md., and Theodore H. Fenske of St. Paul, Minn. John R. Wright of Lakeland, Fla., was elected treasurer. Trustees are Albert E. Buck, Albuquerque, N. M.; Harvey R. Doane, Halifax, N. S.; R. Warren Graffam, Pittsburgh, C. I. Moyer, Topeka, Kas., Jackson A. Raney, Indianapolis, and Albert V. Zimmerman, Alexandria, La.

Waldron R. Currie addressed the club on the subject of "Teamed for Defense," telling the Kiwanians of the need for every citizen to back the Reserve Officers and the government in maintaining a strong national defense against any possibility which might arise.

National Defense Week, he stated was founded in 1932 by the Officers Reserve Corps. If we think of defense, we should also think that we can be the subject of aggression and that it can happen here and may be closer than we think.

Remembers What Teacher Taught

When an editor questioned Dr Millikan on the way to spell the name of his high school algebra teacher, the scientist replied:

"The name was Dan Priaulx, and the school was Maquoketa, Ia. high.

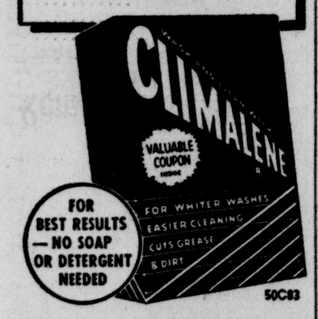

"I'll never forget Priaulx. He would often send his algebra class to the board, give them a problem and say, I'll buy a quart of peanuts for the one who gets the right answer first.'

"Then he'd lead the winner, followed by all the class, out of school and down to the peanut stand, hand over a huge bag of peanuts and watch the boy pass his peanuts around to all.

"He was a man who knew that his pupils' later success and happiness in life would depend largely upon how well they had learned the lessons of competition and wholesome sportsmanship. A great teacher.'"
